

walk out in a sympathetic strike with the surface men will be decided at a meeting of that union to be held on Saturday. William S. McClenahan, secretary of local 888—the union of elevated employees which is affiliated with the same international organization as the surface men—announced the question would be brought up at that meeting.

Indications are the elevated employees will back the surface men up in their wage demands, although the elevated men have no grievance at this time. Hereafter the two organizations have struck concurrently, and there is no indication that there will be a division now in event of a strike.

Number of Men Affected.

The number of motormen and conductors involved as given out by both the company and the union approximates 11,200, although the surface line men's union—local 34—includes a membership of about 33,000, including car barn employees and other crafts. These latter automatically would be thrown out of work in event of a tieup. The elevated union comprises a membership of approximately 4,500.

It is probable that not a wheel will be turned if a strike is called. No attempt was made to run the cars after the first few hours of the walk-out in 1918. An attempt was made to run some of the elevated trains, but after several of these were stoned and windows smashed and the safety of passengers endangered the company officials ordered a cessation of all scheduled runs. So far the company has taken no steps looking toward the employment of strike breakers and Mr. Blair has not admitted that any such steps will be taken.

No Delay in Striking Necessary.

According to dispatches from Detroit, no longer a period than from twelve to twenty-four hours need elapse between the announcement of the strike vote and the calling of the strike. The board of the Amalgamated Association of Street and Electric Railway Employees of America already has been informed of the cause of the threatened strike and all the facts leading up to the controversy.

The natural course is for President Quinn to notify W. D. Mahon, international president, of the result. The latter then notifies the board, which takes the matter under consideration. Approval is then given or not given by the international president.

A poll taken among street car conductors yesterday indicated that there is no great animosity toward a reasonable wage cut at this time, but that no consideration whatever would be given a reduction amounting to 25 per cent, as the company suggested.

"We didn't even listen to that thing the other night," said one conductor. "As far as a strike is concerned, the newspapers know more about it than we do. They've got to come across with something better than they have, however, before we'll swallow it."

Hostile Toward City Hall.

While there appears to be no ill feeling between the company officials and the men, there is a decided hostility on both sides toward the political faction dominating the city hall, the state, and the Illinois commerce commission.

If a strike is called it will be looked upon by both sides as a real protest against the city hall machine, as a the 5 cent fare plank in the platform of the Thompson-Lindbergh organization is construed by both the unions and the company as the motivating pressure behind the action of the commerce commission in ruling for a 5 cent fare—the ruling upon which the United States District court based its decision authorizing not more than a 7 cent fare.

HOLD NORTH SHORE CONFAB

Conferees looking toward amicable settlement of the controversy between the North Shore Electric railway and its 700 employees in Chicago, Waukegan, and Milwaukee, were held yesterday in the offices of Britton L. Budd, president of the firm. The negotiations will be continued tomorrow and the union men will present the situation at the next meeting of their organization next Tuesday.

It is probable that no strike will develop, but if there is trouble it will be weeks before it comes, for the new wage schedule which the men have rejected does not take effect until Sept. 1. The cut offered by the company, is 8 per cent. This leaves the maximum figure, according to a company official, at 68 cents an hour, the highest wage paid on any interurban line in the country.

The 25 per cent cut sought by the surface lines has led the elevated employees to a new consideration of their position. The negotiations probably will continue until the situation in the city is straightened out. L. D. Bland, international treasurer of the Amalgamated Association of Street and Electric Railway Employees, is handling the negotiations for the union.

Hooper Says Jewell, Not Board, Outlawed Strikers

Replying to a statement issued Tuesday by B. M. Jewell, head of the six federated shop crafts now on strike, Ben W. Hooper, chairman of the United States labor board, yesterday countered with a "personal" communication to President Jewell. In this he repudiated the union leaders' charge that the board had outlawed the striking shopmen, contending it merely had taken Mr. Jewell at his word in the assertion that the shopmen were no longer under labor board jurisdiction.

Mr. Hooper's Letter.

Chairman Hooper's letter to Mr. Jewell follows:

"Inasmuch as you do not claim to be officially representing anybody before the United States railroad labor board at this time, it is not deemed necessary for the board to make reply to your letter of July 4th instant.

"I desire to make personal reply, however, in order that no portion of the general public may be misled as to the board's position and to the end that any misunderstanding that may exist in the minds of yourself and your associates shall be cleared up.

"It is not my purpose to discuss with you in this instance the merits of the board's wage decisions further than to say that the minimum wage of which you complain does not apply to the class of employees now on a strike; that the class affected by it are not striking, but are endeavoring to obtain redress for such grievances as they may have in conformity with the transportation act; that said minimum wage affects only .004 per cent of the railway employees of the United States and only 3.3 per cent of the class directly concerned, that is to say, only 6,702 men out of a total of 200,000; that none of these are in the eastern or northwestern territory, but all are in limited sections of the southwest and southeast where the cost of food, fuel, clothing, and housing is far below the country's average; that the minimum in question cannot be extended by the carriers even to a single section gang, in addition to those where it already exists; that the minimum of this class before war conditions set in and before government tribunals fixed the wage was 11 cents, and that the present minimum is so infinitesimal, geographically and numerically, that it cannot be taken as the basis upon which the wage of skilled labor is built, as you assert, but the average of 12.7 cents per hour would be taken as such basis.

Denies Jewell's Charges.

"Going directly to the point of your letter, you allege in substance that the labor board by its resolution of July 3 outlawed the striking shop crafts, that it excluded them from the consideration of the board that it proposed to exclude such other organizations as might strike, and that it had thus joined as a driver of the financial interests against organized labor.

"The board has done none of these things that you charge against it. You are simply putting the cart before the horse, confusing cause and effect. Your chief, Mr. Gompers, fell into the same error in his statement about the matter."

"Here is what has, in fact, happened in proper consecutive order:

"First, the board and the labor organizations have always concurred in recognizing the right of the majority of a class of employees on a railroad, through their chosen representatives, to make agreements with the carrier."

"Second, these agreements, when made by a labor organization, apply only to the members of that organization and to nonmembers doing the same class of work."

"Third, you announced in Sunday's press that the shopmen having left the employ of the railroads no longer come under the jurisdiction of the labor board. This was in accord with your previous communications to the board."

Status of Workers Same.

"Fourth, it necessarily follows that when certain of the employees went out of the employ of the carrier, a majority of the employees in the labor organization may subsequently enter will be entitled to represent all of any given class of employees in any dispute before the board. The board will not cease to function merely because certain employees leave the service, nor will the transportation act be annulled."

"Fifth, it therefore follows that you are not endeavoring to error when you state that the railroad labor board has 'outlawed' your organization. It has only accepted your own statement as one of fact and law that the striking men are not now employees of the carriers. It has not, however, used the rasping word 'outlaw' at any time."

"You must know, Mr. Jewell, that you do this board a grave injustice and yourself no credit when you characterize the board as unfriendly to your organizations and being implicated in a 'drive' of the financial interests against the employees. You are too well aware of the numerous instances in which the board has upheld all the railway labor organizations, recognized their right to function, declaring their right of collective bargaining, and sustaining them in their resistance to efforts made here and there to deprive them of their rights and privileges. In fact, I may say without fear of successful contradiction that this has been the uniform policy of the labor board."

Hopes for Change of Heart.

"But because we have thus recognized the rights of the employees, it does not follow that we can or should agree with them in every contention or that we should ignore the rights and interests of the public."

"I am yet quite hopeful that your organization will recover their equilibrium and discern that it is vastly better for them to go along with the railroad labor board, patiently when it makes mistakes, but confidently at all times that it profoundly desires to do justice to the men, the carriers, and the public, without fear, favor or affection."

MAILS ARE BEING TAMPERED WITH, ROADS REPORT

U. S. to Act Promptly and Vigorously.

Washington, D. C., July 5.—Interference with the movement of the United States mails by striking railway workers in different parts of the country was reported today to the office of the superintendent of railway mail service. The reports came from Marshall, Tex.; St. Louis, Mo.; Chaffee, Mo.; Kansas City, Mo.; and De Quincy, La.

Officials of the Texas and Pacific lines at Marshall reported that their trains and trains on other roads in the same territory were being materially delayed as a result of interference by strikers and their friends, who, it was alleged, were tampering with telegraph lines and otherwise preventing proper movement of trains.

Trouble at St. Louis.

Officials of the St. Louis-San Francisco Railway company at St. Louis, Mo., notified Washington that protection was needed for the preservation and operation of trains used in handling mail matter. "Serious trouble" was reported from Chaffee, Mo.

The Kansas City Southern Railway company reported from Kansas City, Mo., that the strike situation was growing more serious and that at De Quincy strikers had warned officials in charge of mail trains not to attempt to transfer mail matter during the night.

No Tampering Allowed.

The postoffice department, it was said, would dispatch inspectors to all points where trouble might arise in the transportation of the mails.

There is a disposition on the part of the administration, it was understood, to deal with strikers or any other persons who molest the mails, and dispatch of the mails in the most vigorous manner.

[Copyright 1922. By the New York Times.]

Mexico City, July 5.—The kidnapping of A. Bielski, who formerly was chief of the bureau of investigation of the United States department of justice, took a sensational turn today when the charge of self-abduction was laid against him.

The charges were renewed today when El Universal announced it had learned from official sources that the arrest of Bielski had been ordered. The order for him to appear in Cuernavaca emanated from a state court and was issued by a civil judge.

Mme. Milo, a French dressmaker who accompanied the Bielski party on their trip to the bandit caves, was arrested. A private detective named Simmons also has been arrested and is now in the local jail, facing a charge of complicity in the supposed plot.

good many things they do not mean. I think such has been the case now. The labor board carries no grudge. It is not only inclined to be conciliatory, but must be conciliatory, for it has the interest of the public to protect. The board, as I said in my letter to Mr. Jewell, hopes that he and his organization will go along with the labor board rather than try to pull in the opposite direction."

"There are about fifteen elevators in the transportation building, and they run all day long."

"Not Averse to Peace."

In connection with this Mr. Jewell told newspaper men:

"I am not averse to treating the matter on a personal basis, adding that he was prepared to deal with 'any authorized person on any reasonable basis.'"

The first definite announcement as to strike vote returns from the shop crafts came last night. President Jewell said the vote on three issues averaged 96 per cent in favor of a walk-out. There was a separate ballot for each of three grievances—the $40,000,000 wage reduction effective last Saturday, farming out of work by certain carriers to contractors not within the jurisdiction of the labor board, and certain working rules which cut the overtime pay of the shopmen.

The contract system provoked the strongest protest, according to Mr. Jewell's report. He said 97.2 per cent of the rank and file voted for a strike on this issue; on the working rules question, 96.2 per cent, and on the wage grievance, 94.7 per cent.

In evincing any effective peace plan, it seems generally agreed, the railroad labor board will consider the fact that the shopmen's chief has been obdurate in his assertion that only some concession from the roads on the three points at issue can move him to back down.

READERS MOVE CLOTURE TO GET TARIFF ACTION

Republican Plan Likely to Lose Tomorrow.

ARTHUR SEARS HENNING.
Washington, D. C., July 6.—[Special.]—The Republican leaders in the Senate moved today to cut short the debate on the tariff bill by invoking the cloture rule. They have little hope of success but are determined to fix the responsibility for delaying the legislation on the Democrats.

Earlier in the day the session was ended by a display of insurgency by Senator Lenroot (Wis.), Republican, who, at the high duties proposed, he threatened to vote against the bill unless more moderation in fixing rates is shown.

Senator McCumber (N.D.) presented the petition for cloture signed by fifty members of the sixty Republicans. Under the rules it will be voted upon Friday and if it is approved by two-thirds of those voting each senator thereafter will be limited to one hour for the discussion of the bill and all amendments. New amendments may be proposed only by unanimous consent.

Against the Cloture.

The eight Republicans who failed to sign the petition were La Follette (Wis.), Borah (Idaho), Brandegee (Cal.), Norris (Neb.), Johnson (Cal.), Hays (N. H.), Crow (Pa.), and Weller (Ill.). Senator Crow is ill and Senator Hays is in Japan. The others are opposed to the exercise of cloture.

Senator Underwood (Ala.), Democratic leader, in opposing cloture, pointed out that the Democrats have had no opportunity as yet to offer amendments, because of the agreement that amendments of the committee shall be considered first, this does not seem a proper time to cut off debate. The Senate is ever going to come to a cloture rule on appropriation and revenue bills, it should have a proper time to meet the situation, and not a "cloture" rule.

Charges Democrats Delay.

Senator Lodge (Mass.), Republican leader, said that in all his experience he never had seen such dilatory tactics as those employed by the Democrats. He said the majority will at least show the country which party is delaying.

Senator Lodge said that if the cloture move fails it will be necessary for the Senate to return to the tariff bill and make an effort to change the rules so as to make cloture in the case of a bill possible by a majority vote.

"The worst tariff bill ever written for better business than to leave members in suspense by dragging out consideration of the bill all summer," he said.

Lenroot Goes on Warpath.

The Senate today approved large increases in duties on California nuts and fruits.

"Such rates as this are to be voted on the bill to any considerable extent will not support this bill on final passage," said Senator Lenroot. "I want to stand for reasonable protection, but I have no sympathy with the tariff which is a burden on the people."

Senator Lenroot said that he had received high duties, and then, because of the interrelation of duties, the Senate will vote for all increases.

"I would not ask for a 150 per cent increase in duty on any product of my state when production of the commodity has doubled under the Underwood law."

In reply to Senator Lenroot's threat the Senate approved an increase in the duty on shell almonds from 4 to 15 cents per pound. Senators Lenroot and La Follette (Wis.) were the only Republicans to vote against the duty increase. Senators Arthur (Ark.), Brandegee (Cal.), and Kendrick (Wyo.), Democrats voted for it.

Further reductions in duties in the tariff schedule were agreed upon by the Republican members of the Finance Committee today. The latest cuts affect underwear and hosiery.

HOLD DESTINY OF U. S., HARDING TELLS LEGION

Loyalty to Constitution a Security.

Marion, O., July 6.—[By the Associated Press.]—So long as the American Legion is consecrated to the preservation of the constitution and of law and order the American republic is everlastingly secure, President Harding asserted in a brief address today to several thousand world war veterans who held a reunion here.

Reminding them that they were now charged with a greater responsibility than they had of the battlefields of France, Mr. Harding declared the destiny of the United States was in the hands of former service men.

"I have no hesitancy in saying," he added, "that it is in good hands."

The President urged his auditors, who earlier in the afternoon had participated in a historical parade which he reviewed, to serve their country as civilians with wartime devotion.

The President stated his last day among the home folks with a morning round of golf on the new links here with O. S. Rapp, a Marion friend; General Pershing and Charles G. Dawes. After luncheon at the home of C. B. Kling, Mrs. Harding's brother, the President witnessed the parade, which depicted various stages of Marion's history.

Then Mr. and Mrs. Harding were serenaded by the Buckeye Republican Glee club of Columbus.

The President entered into the spirit of the occasion with the enthusiasm of a school boy, smiling broadly at the old prairie schoolhouse, drawn by twenty mules and a dismounted rural frontier wagon in which there was a smoking stove. Mr. Harding leaned over the railing to wave to a four-foot drum major who strutted by at the head of one band.

SPECTATOR DIES, 2 HURT BY SHAM BATTLE BULLETS

Loyalty to Constitution a Security.

Pittsburg, Kan., July 6.—One person was killed and two others wounded by steel jacketed bullets mysteriously fired during a sham battle staged as a Fourth of July celebration by members of the American Legion.

The three persons shot were spectators. Glenn Harry, 18, is dead. Mrs. Charles Deuby and Edward O'Connor, a policeman, were wounded. The three were standing close together in the crowd, which gave rise to the theory that the shots were aimed at someone marked for death.

Legion men declared positively that their rifles, used to give a replica of fighting in the Argonne battle, had only blanks.

County Attorney C. A. Burnett and Sheriff Milt Gould have obtained admissions from participants in the "battle," however, that some of the officers had automatics which will not work with blanks. They were discharging the weapons.

JANITOR GOES ON TRIAL FOR PART IN WOMAN'S SLAYING

Loyalty to Constitution a Security.

Refusing to follow the example of Thomas Roach, his co-defendant, and plead guilty, Russell Mosby, colored janitor, was yesterday placed on trial before Judge John J. Sullivan for the murder last April of Mrs. Anna Colwell, whose nude body was discovered in a moving van in the rear of Roach's apartment at 3726 Cottage Grove avenue.

Prosecutor Charles S. Wharton qualified all jurors for the death penalty, and following the testimony of policemen, put Roach on the stand. In a description of one of the most revolting scenes ever heard in the Criminal court building Roach placed the blame for the killing on Mosby, telling how the latter had beaten the woman over the head with a gun, choked her, and stamped on her prostrate body.

STORY OF FLASK SPURS MUSE TO PITY UNCLE JOE

Washington, D. C., July 6.—[Special.]—Recent reports that a flask had mysteriously disappeared from "Uncle Joe" Cannon's coat pocket caused H. E. McFarland of St. Louis, one of Uncle Joe's fervent admirers, to bring forth in verse. He wrote what he termed a "cannonade" on the incident as follows:

Who was the flack, pray let me ask,
Who blotted out Uncle Joseph's flask?
The flask he carried on his hip,
From which he took a quiet sip
Of mellow stuff we used to know
In happy days of long ago.
How could one have such little tact
To rob the flask of its content?
How could one be so mean and low
To rob our dear old Uncle Joe?

To rob the flask of its content,
Is bad enough and savor rank;
To rob a graveyard of its dead,
Or take away the orphan's bread,
Are crimes we may, perhaps, condone,
If circumstances all were known.
But could he be who breaks the lock
To rob us of our private stock,
Or, what is worse, will watch his chance
And steal our liquor from our pants,
And spare us, pray, the crushing blow
Of doing this to Uncle Joe.

"It is a question whether the author owes you an apology," the author wrote Mr. Cannon, "or is deserving of the thanks of congress for what he intends as a slight tribute of respect and affection for his most beloved and honored member. It is his fervent hope that there was no material defect in getting the prescription refilled."

Mr. Cannon replied to the letter as follows:

"I have your favor, with enclosure, and after reading your 'cannonade,' I am willing to let the story go uncontradicted and thank you for your tribute."

Black Hand Victim Freed for Killing Threat Author

Michael Carelli was exonerated yesterday by a coroner's jury for shooting and killing his cousin, Thomas Gallico, last Monday in front of the Carroll home at 9146 Blackstone avenue. The jury found the murder to have been "justifiable on the grounds of extortion."

Carelli testified he received three Black Hand letters demanding $2,000, the authorship of which he said he had practically traced to Gallico.

BARES RUSSIA'S FEAR OF PRESS IT CANNOT RULE

Tells How Reds Avoid Pitiless Publicity.

BY OTIS SWIFT.

(Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.)
(Copyright, 1922, by The Chicago Tribune.)
LONDON, July 5.—The vice of every American correspondent going to Russia must receive Foreign Minister Tchitcherine's personal approval after the full facts of the bolshevik investigation of the correspondent have been laid before him.

I learned this when, after Moscow did not acknowledge my second application to go to Russia as a representative of the Tribune, a soviet official at Riga told me confidentially that this was the reason for my delay.

All the important heads of red Russia are now at Genoa, where the situation is uncertain, he said. The minor officials in Moscow are not authorized to approve visas and they do not dare take action, fearing if you are admitted they will be held responsible for what you say. Your application must go to Genoa for the personal approval of M. Tchitcherine. It is doubtful now whether you will be admitted until after the Genoa conference, for newspaper stories might have an important effect on the results of the conference by creating a certain atmosphere.

Answer Comes by Subterfuge.
Other soviet officials, acting on the bolshevik policy of "tell them anything to keep them happy," continued to assert that I would be admitted shortly, but the facts proved that the candid bolshevik was correct.

The possible day of two of waiting which had been promised by the London soviet officials had turned into a month and then two. Still Moscow did not answer. In the meanwhile, I wired M. Tchitcherine, Litvinoff and Karahan again, but without results.

Then the answer came. The bolshevik creed is subterfuge, with the avoidance of open dealing, hence the refusal reached me through agents in the network of the underground system which Red Russia has flung out across eastern Europe. In the course of forty-eight hours six persons whom I barely knew looked me up, and each announced what was practically a stereotyped line. "I learn from the best authority that Moscow has decided to refuse you a visa. There is no use waiting here any longer; you might as well return to London."

Dodged by Litvinoff.
It did not work. I told my informants I would wait for a definite and official answer. On June 3 Maxim Litvinoff arrived at Riga at 7 a. m. from Berlin. On the same morning I visited M. Antonov.

I told a secretary that I wanted to see M. Litvinoff. He replied, "I will take your card right in," and entered the inner sanctum. He emerged, saying, "I am sorry, but M. Litvinoff left yesterday at 4 o'clock for Moscow."

But M. Litvinoff brought results. Calling at the soviet headquarters on June 30, when I asked the passport secretary my daily question for the past months, "Have you got anything for me?" he looked up mildly and said, "What is the nature of what you expect?" To this I answered, "Information regarding a visa to enter Russia."

Looking surprised, he asked, "What

WHERE SOVIETS ARE MASSING ARMIES

Is the name? I told him, and thereupon he opened a big ledger and turned to a page with a long list of names on which my name was written last on the list. Then he said, "You cannot go to Russia—there is no explanation. Moscow never explains." Then he added, politely, "The application was formally refused by the foreign office on April 28 and the refusal was received here on May 14. Why have you not inquired before?"

An analysis of the probable reasons why the bolsheviks refused me admission are:

Moscow is not desirous of having any newspaper observers, preferring the propaganda service of the Moscow wireless as the only source of news emanating from Russia.

The Anglo-American section of the foreign office—which it is certain in Riga studies the Tass news agency's expression of midwestern opinion more carefully than any other newspaper—resents Tass news agency's editorial criticism of bolshevism.

Apparently, the Cheka's lengthy investigation of me convinced them that I was neither Red nor pink, and it was useless for the bolsheviks to hope that I could be converted to communism.

SOVIET SHOWING ITS WAR MUSCLE FOR HAGUE TO SEE

(BY A STAFF CORRESPONDENT.)

Washington, D. C., July 5.—(Special.)—Soviet Russia's steady concentration of military strength upon the Polish and Rumanian frontiers to date has resulted in the massing of no less than 250,000 men on these borders, according to authoritative advice reaching here today.

Of these, nearly one-half are on the Polish, or so-called "western front," while approximately 125,000 are on the Rumanian border, and the remainder are concentrated in the Karkoff area. The entire strength of the Red armies, including 125,000 of the so-called Chaka or secret service troops, is estimated at approximately 1,500,000 men.

While this movement of troops toward the frontier has occasioned considerable alarm both in Poland and Rumania, those here who are most competent to speak on the situation say all information indicates that the movement probably was in the nature of a gesture toward Europe originally undertaken for its moral effect upon the Genoa conference and continued with the idea of giving soviet Russia a more authoritative voice in The Hague parleys.

The total combatant strength of the Red army is estimated as in the neighborhood of 650,000 rifles, of which approximately 210,000 are included in the forces concentrated on the Polish and Rumanian frontiers. In addition, reports show that Trotsky has no less than 250 pieces of artillery in full condition with these forces.

The alarm naturally felt in Poland, which was manifested in the efforts of the Polish government to conclude a military alliance with Finland and other Baltic states, was increased by warlike preparations on the part of the soviet war office.

Soviet Warlike Preparations.
These specific preparations included:
1. Comprehensive improvements in railway facilities and highways leading to the Polish border.
2. Unusual activity in the development of artillery, not only on the Polish frontier, but in the Moscow area, as well, including the organization of more than fifty battalions of artillery of various types and calibers.

3. The establishment of approximately 200 new field hospitals.
4. Mobilization of many officers and surgeons who previously had been discharged from the army, as well as an organized and systematic effort to recall to the colors all officers with experience in the old czarist armies.

Orders for a decrease in the time of preparation for action on the western front from nine days to seven days.

WEEKS IS RIGHT, DEMOCRAT VIEW, ABOUT CONGRESS

Byrns, as Official Critic, Quotes Secretary.

Washington, D. C., July 6.—Delegated by house Democrats to reply to the recent speech of Representative F. W. Mondell (Wyo.), the Republican leader, on "the achievements of congress," Representative J. W. Byrns (Iowa), ranking Democrat of the appropriations committee, declared in "an extension of remarks," to be printed in the Congressional Record tomorrow.

Mr. Byrns, in his address, told the truth "frankly and bluntly" in asserting in an address that congress had reached its lowest ebb. "Concedes Weeks' Right to Judge," Mr. Byrns is quoted as having declared in a sudden burst of candor, said Mr. Byrns, that this congress, which is overwhelmingly Republican, had reached the lowest ebb in the entire history of the country. Considering his long service in the house, the senate, and as secretary of war, testimony coming from such a high Republican source will undoubtedly be accepted in preference to the biased opinion of Mr. Mondell, whose candidacy for the United States senate rests upon the record made by congress under his leadership.

Referring to Mr. Mondell's allusion to newspaper editors, Mr. Byrns declared the editors could "take comfort in the fact that in such criticisms they have been no more harsh than was the distinguished secretary of war, who holds such a high place in the present administration."

Importance of Outlook. "The difference is that the secretary of war frankly and bluntly told the truth," Mr. Byrns added, "while the gentleman from Wyoming was speaking with the United States senatorship uppermost in his mind."

After a general denial of the claims put forth by Mr. Mondell as to the saving of public funds, Mr. Byrns declared "one of the most disappointing and unpardonable failures" of the administration was "its culpable neglect to promptly and vigorously prosecute the war profiteers."

"For fourteen months the attorney general took no steps to bring these profiteers to justice," he said, "and there seemed to be a purpose to let the statute of limitations run and permit at least many of them to escape criminal and civil liability."

Lauches "Administrative Delay." "So evident did this become," he added, "that two Republican representatives—Woodruff and Johnson—felt it their duty to bring this neglect of the attorney general and the department of justice to the attention of congress and the country."

Touching on the failure of the house to act on the Woodruff-Johnson resolution for an investigation, and the subsequent appropriation of half a million dollars for war fraud prosecutions, Mr. Byrns declared:

"The money asked for was promptly and unanimously granted. The gentleman from Wyoming takes credit, but I submit that the administration, lashed by two members of its own party, who were actuated by a high sense of public duty, can claim little credit therefor. It is a severe reflection on the administration and the Republican party that the majority leaders suppressed this resolution in the rules committee."

Artist's Fiancee

MISS CARROLL McCOMAS.

New York, July 6.—[Special.]—Miss Carroll McComas, the actress who in April, 1921, inherited the entire fortune of Howard J. Flannery of Pittsburgh, who died a short time after their engagement, is to be married within a few days to Walter J. Wright, a cartoonist of the World. Mr. Wright was born in Chicago forty-three years ago.

VAST AREA OF DUBLIN BURNS AS REBELS QUIT

spread to Mackay's seed store and across to Findlater place.

With the fall of these places it is believed the fighting will degenerate into sniping and individual assassinations. There is evidence that there has been a small concentration of irregulars in the mountains in County Dublin and operations against these are already under way. In a few towns of the county, National and irregulars have clashed and the government will continue its work until all the rebels have been suppressed. Plan Call to Arms. For this work it is estimated that a large number of troops will be needed, and tomorrow a call to arms probably will be issued by the authorities. It is believed that the government will be willing to accept the services of Irishmen who served with the British during the world war, and the indications are that a large number of these will volunteer.

REBELS BUSY IN CORK

BY THOMAS RYAN. [Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.] [Copyright, 1922, By The Chicago Tribune.] CORK, July 6.—While the Free Staters are closing in on the irregulars in Dublin the latter's comrades are holding Cork and vicinity and are preparing for a final struggle. The battle for the southwest can scarcely be said to have begun. Cork city is entirely in republican hands.

Commandant Leahy has his headquarters in the old Union Quay police barracks. Although Cork voted in favor of the treaty in the last election, Donal O'Callaghan, a republican known in the United States, is the lord mayor. The only Free State stronghold in County Cork was Skibbereen. The republicans today announced that it surrendered last night. The garrison was composed of volunteers organized by a young medical student named McCann. The only Free State unit of the Irish republican army after the treaty and attempted to hold Skibbereen for the provisional government.

Free Staters Agree to Truce. The republicans also declare that Gen. Hannigan, a Free Stater, recently attempted to relieve a small garrison at Broadford, in South Limerick, but evacuating all his Limerick positions. An agreement was concluded last night between Gen. Hannigan and Gen. Lynch, the republican chief of staff, by which both sides undertake to maintain a truce pending the outcome of the Dublin conflict. This republicans report that the entire territory in the first southern division, including Counties Cork, Kerry and West Limerick, is in their hands. The second division, under Gen. Robinson, is in control of Waterford, East Limerick, and parts of Kilkenny and Tipperary. The Cork Free Staters believe that after the national troops subdue the rebels in Dublin they will approach Cork by sea. The republicans apparently are prepared to block the inner channel in Cork harbor by sinking barges.

MOVE AGAINST
'BUCKET' SHOPSAttorney to Bring Action
Here and in East.

Simultaneous criminal action by State's Attorney Crowe and the district attorney of New York against a number of alleged "bucket shops" which have gone into bankruptcy in recent months will be requested early next week by Attorney Philip R. Davis, representing 2,700 odd creditors of the various concerns.

Mr. Davis declared last night that he already has been promised full cooperation of State's Attorney Crowe. On Saturday at noon he will leave for New York for a conference with the district attorney there. He seeks simultaneous action here and in the eastern metropolis, since all of the houses concerned in his investigation have had offices both in Chicago and New York.

Firms Mulcted of Assets.

Among the charges he is prepared to make are that a number of the bankrupt concerns have been mulcted of their assets by certain men, who have conspired to obtain large sums by forcing the companies into the bankruptcy courts with little or no assets left, that some of the houses operated with officials acting under assumed names.

In one case, he declared, between $2,000,000 and $3,000,000 has disappeared, the scheduled assets which remain amounting to about $1,000.

Among the firms whose creditors Attorney Davis represents are F. S. Ruston & Co., Howell & Walter, R. H. MacMasters & Co., Kardos & Burk, and E. M. Fuller & Co.

"Bucketing" Evidence Obtained.

Mr. Davis asserted that considerable evidence already has been gathered concerning the alleged "bucketing" operations in the state courts both here and New York is expected to be followed by federal prosecution for alleged misuse of the mails. All concerns involved, he said, are members of the Consolidated Stock Exchange of New York.

My interest simply is in behalf of the creditors of the various concerns whom I represent," Attorney Davis said. "Vast sums of money have been dissipated and there is no showing where these sums went. We propose to find out and in the process to put some men in the penitentiary."

WAUKEGAN ASKS
NOOSE FOR POTZ,
WHO SLEW YANK

Public opinion in Lake county is running high against Ignatz Potz, who murdered an ex-soldier in cold blood. He should be hanged.

These words were used yesterday by State's Attorney A. V. Smith of Waukegan when he appeared before the state board of pardons in response to invitation to speak on the commutation of the death sentence of the slayer of Motorcycle Policeman Peterson of Winthrop Harbor.

Gov. Small last week announced he would make Potz's punishment life imprisonment. This, he said, was the last request of Mrs. Small.

"As for the sentimental side of it," said the Lake county prosecutor to the pardon board, "we all know under what strain Gov. Small was laboring when he commuted the sentence and under what grief he now labors. But sentimental consideration must not be carried too far."

The members of the board, Will Collins, Chauncey F. Jenkins, and C. F. Hink, took the case under advisement. They will make their recommendation to the governor later.

FIREWORKS "BOOTLEGGERS" FINED.

For selling fireworks in violation of the law, Fred Lachoff, owner of novelty store at 316 Thorne avenue and 3425 Westmoreland street, was fined $25 and costs yesterday by Judge William N. Gentile in the South Clark court.

SEEKS DIVORCE

Mrs. Kathryn Grosscup Moon, adopted daughter of the late Peter S. Grosscup, accuses her husband, Frank Leslie Moon, Mrs. Moon recently inherited the bulk of the Grosscup estate.

DAUGHTER OF
JUDGE GROSSCUP
SEEKS DIVORCE

The alleged indiscretions of Frank Leslie Moon, former broker at 208 South La Salle street and brother-in-law of Claus Spreckels, California sugar magnate, during his brief residence here caused Mrs. Kathryn Grosscup Moon to file suit for divorce in Superior court yesterday.

Daughter of Judge.

Mrs. Moon, formerly Mrs. Isaac M. Jordan and the daughter of the late Peter S. Grosscup, former federal judge, according to the bill filed by Attorney William Garnett, married Moon in Coronado, Cal., on May 1, 1915. Several years later Moon engaged in the brokerage business in Chicago, the family residing at 73 East Cedar street.

In 1921 Moon devoted his time to several women. It is charged, finally abandoning Mrs. Moon on Dec. 20, 1921, to return to California. Mrs. Moon asks the custody of Peter Grosscup Moon, born on June 13, 1921, and of Virginia Grosscup Moon, her daughter by a former marriage.

His Estate Divided.

Mrs. Moon's suit recalls the mystery of the disappearance of the bulk of her adopted father's estate, which before his death was estimated in excess of $500,000. Under the terms of the jurist's will, Mrs. Moon was given an outright bequest of $400,000, but investigation revealed that Judge Grosscup's fortune had dwindled to about $200,000.

No explanation other than possible fluctuation in the value of securities included in the estate was offered for the apparent loss.

"MAX A FINE MAN,
SO WHY HUBBUB
OVER MATHILDE?"

"Max Oser is a fine man, and I can't see why there should be such great excitement over the reported engagement of Mathilde McCormick to him," said Dr. Robert Herold, Swiss editor and personal friend of Oser, who was in Chicago yesterday investigating the prohibition situation. "Oser is well known and well liked over in our country."

Dr. Herold, who is head of the dry movement in Switzerland, said he was "overwhelmed with admiration for the manner in which you Americans have coped with the prohibition situation."

FIREWORKS VENDERS FINED.

For selling fireworks illicitly, Samuel Taber, 640 North State street, was fined $50 and costs; Abraham Shier, 1119 North Wells street, was fined $5 and costs; Peter Bloom, 315 West Division street, was fined $5 and costs; and Sam Farber, 940 North State street, was fined $5 and costs yesterday in the Chicago avenue court.

DODD ANSWERS LINCOLN CRITICS OF THE SOUTH

Retrieved Faith Set Up by U. S. Founders.

In a public address delivered yesterday afternoon in Leon Mandel assembly hall of the University of Chicago, Professor William E. Dodd of the history department, talked on Lincoln and the recently expressed southern charges that the Emancipator was responsible for the civil war.

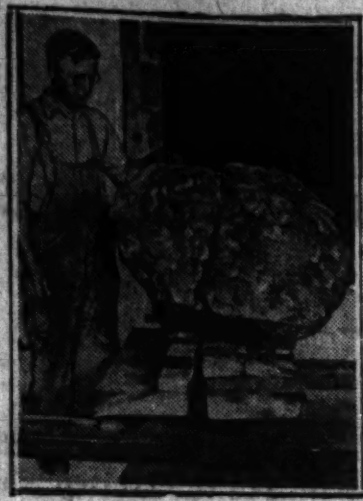

"Some southerners," Prof. Dodd said, "particularly the Daughters of the Confederacy, insist today as the leaders of the south did sixty years ago that Abraham Lincoln was responsible for the civil war and all its horrors. There are some northerners, particularly the reactionary party groups, who insist that Lincoln was wholly without responsibility for the catastrophe of 1861-65. But neither the one side nor the other in this contention is right. Lincoln is one of the great democrats of American history in spite of the war between north and south, in spite of all the mistakes that he and his fellows of both sides made in the crisis.

Lincoln's Big Problem.
"Lincoln sought at a time of peculiar national backsliding to bring the country back to its first great faith, the faith that all men are created free and equal—a great dogma that is not quite the fact. Because men of property in 1860 would not submit their rights of property to the will of simple majority there arose a crisis.

"The southerners had abandoned Jefferson. They said everywhere in 1860 that the Declaration of Independence was a fraud, a fallacy. They set up the contrary ideal that inequality is the rule of life; they insisted that the owners of property should govern everywhere. That meant that the owners of slaves should govern.

"Now there may be a fallacy in the assertion of the ideal of equality. But that is the fundamental fact in the Declaration of Independence. The existence of the American nation is due to the belief in that ideal.
Set Ideal for World.
"If the United States has influenced mankind in anything it has not done so by its work of art, by its inventions, or by its statecraft. Important as these have been, it has influenced mankind everywhere because its ideal of human equality, the struggle for the elevation of the heavy laden workers of the world.
"Now the south departed from the ideal. Its thought became realistic. Its leaders were political scientists. Its philosophers sought to prove that every man is either inferior to or superior to some one else. They stumbled about in the great wilderness of science, searching for the law of the survival of the fittest and the subordination of the unfit, the Negro, to overbearing servitude. And science supported their claim. History told them they were right. Religion preached their doctrine. Literature was full of evidence of the gospel of inequality. The evidence was overwhelming.
"They accepted the evidence. The evidence is ever overwhelmingly in favor of the realist. But man is guided by faith, not facts.

STAR DUST

"Lincoln, although not a Christian, made faith the lamp to his footsteps. The ideal America was to be his America.

He clung to the unreality of the great tradition, aware that there was more in that unreality than there was in the southern reality. That holding on to the things unseen, to the dreams of 'impractical men,' to the dogmas of Thomas Jefferson, rather than the certainties of Alexander Hamilton, is what gave Lincoln his place in 1861, that has elevated him to the inapproachable elevation that he now occupies.

"The south and the dominant political party of 1860 believed in imperialism, the idea that American property interests were supreme. They risked their all upon that contention.
"Lincoln denied their contention. To him the laborer was worthy of his hire. No man had a right to control another. The United States had no commission to dominate other countries, no matter how small. To him the very rich man in any country was a problem. He would not only block the great south in its course. He would restore the government to its ancient ideal. That and nothing else is the reason of Lincoln's immortality."

WIFE CLAIMS SHE MADE SACRIFICE TO SAVE TROTTER

Shelter for Girl Mother Was Promised.

Grand Rapids, Mich., July 5.—(Special.)—Attorneys for Mrs. Lottie Trotter at the suit for separate maintenance against Melvin E. Trotter, evangelist, today read letters exchanged by the pair to refute Trotter's claim that his wife's accusations of infidelity were brought on by a disordered mind.

Trotter, who is superintendent of the City Rescue mission, was placed on the stand to identify the letters.

From November, 1920, to April, 1921, the Trotters had smoothed out their differences, the correspondence indicated. Then Mrs. Trotter went to the mission board with a statement that the evangelist and his secretary, Florence Moody, had confessed that Trotter was to blame for the girl's condition.

His Letter of Hate.

Trotter was asked about a letter to his wife, written after he learned of the board meeting.

"I was telling her the truth to show that she was no better than I," he said. "I was trying to do everything to make her stop talking."

The letter followed:

"My Dearest Lottie: When I learned of your actions after I left home, of your board meeting last Friday night, of the utter disregard you had for your word, that you would go home and do your best to get along, my anger caused the most awful hatred I have experienced since I became a Christian. It seemed to me that I could do most anything mean. Then your letter, written that very day, signed 'Always Your True Wife,' added to my awful hatred."

"I have one place to go and only one, so on Monday evening and night I prayed, or tried to. After a night of suffering I found my hatred turning to pity. Yesterday I pitied you much. I pitied my brethren who did not know. Thank God, this morning it's all turned to love. I love you dearly. I am not the least angry. You are my wife and my job is to stand by you and love you. I want to do it. I do so it."

His Appeal to Wife.

Her statement said:

"The first break came Friday, July 13, 1921. That morning, down at the summer cottage, Mel called me into the sun parlor and closed the door and asked me what I thought was the matter with Moody. I answered that I thought she was about to be confined."

"He said, 'Get ready and we will go uptown.' So we came to Grand Rapids that same morning and I had my class of poor women sewing upstairs. He looked as though he wanted to say something."

"Then he said: 'Lottie, I have made an ass of myself with this girl. I have always been fast enough to get myself into trouble, but you have always been the one to help me out. Now you will have to help me out of this.'

"Then I said, 'Do you mean to tell me that you are to blame for her condition?'

"He said, 'She says so, and I guess it must be so."

"Then I turned to her and she said, 'Yes, he is.'"

"And Mel said, 'O Lottie, don't say any more about that. I know how awful it is. Just tell us how to get out of it.'"

"So I concluded they were both sorry for the past and I was willing to help them out. Then we made some plans of how to get out of the trouble. I was to take her away for a trip to Boston for a few months and bring her back well and nobody would be wise as to what happened. But instead she was taken to the Blodgett hospital, Friday, the 20th, and the child was born Sunday, July 22. And so far as I can see there has never been any repentance for that sin."

BORAH'S BILL WOULD SLASH SHIPPING BOARD

Washington, D. C., July 5.—(Special.)—A campaign for drastic pruning of the political plum tree in Washington was launched today by Senator Borah (Idaho).

He began by offering a bill to reduce the membership of the shipping board from seven to three, thereby effecting a saving of $45,000 a year in salaries, which he declared were unnecessary.

"There are seven members of the United States shipping board," he said. "They enjoy a salary of $12,000 each. After reading the hearings on the merchant marine bill one concludes that there is no justification for having seven high salaried commissioners. If this were a business institution there would likely be only one and that would be plenty."

"To pay seven men $12,000 each to preside over the decrepit days, according to their own showing, of this moribund and money losing, money squandering affair, is sheer waste of the taxpayers' money. We are told daily that we must get rid of these ships even if we have to pay a large bonus to have some one take them."

"But the shipping board is only an illustration of the situation in Washington. A million dollars could be saved annually by cutting down and putting out commissions and unnecessary offices. We would have more efficient and more responsible public service."

Nation-wide Cadillac Service as Dependable as the Cadillac Car

The purchaser of a Cadillac may never have occasion to call upon a service station outside of his home city.

And yet, should he decide tomorrow to take a trip of a thousand or five thousand miles, he can start out with the confident assurance that, go where he will, the Cadillac service organization will be ever within his reach, and will represent the highest quality of service obtainable in that locality.

These nation-wide service stations are capably manned and amply stocked with standard parts. This organization forms a permanent reserve system for the perpetuation of Cadillac dependability.

To Mechanical Craft Employees:

In compliance with the order of U. S. Railroad Labor Board of July 3, as follows:

"Whereas, in the future submission of disputes involving rules, wages and grievances of said classes of employees of the carriers, it will be desirable, if not a practical necessity, for the employees of each class on each carrier to form some sort of association or organization to function in the representation of said employees before the Railroad Labor Board, in order that the effectiveness of the Transportation Act may be maintained.

"Now, therefore, be it resolved, That it be communicated to the carriers and the employees remaining in the service and the new employees succeeding those who have left the service to take steps as soon as practicable to perfect on each carrier such organizations as may be deemed necessary for the purposes above mentioned, and

"Be it further resolved, That if it be assumed that the employees who leave the service of the carrier because of their dissatisfaction with any decisions of the Labor Board are within their rights in so doing, it must likewise be conceded that the men who remain in the service and those who enter it anew are within their rights in accepting such employment, that they are not strike breakers seeking to impose the arbitrary will of an employer on employees; that they have the moral as well as the legal right to engage in such service of the American public to avoid interruption of indispensable railway transportation, and that they are entitled to the protection of every department and branch of the Government, state and national."

and in view of our duty to the public to maintain our service, we are obliged to reorganize with sufficient forces.

Before taking this step, in view of the harmonious relations which have always existed between us and because we want to give every consideration to faithful employees, we ask you to give most earnest and sober thought to your final decision in the matter of returning to our service.

The existing law provides the means of correcting any injustice which you may feel needs correction. For years in the past we have been able to meet and agree amicably on all matters. We believe that condition can and should exist again.

Those of our Mechanical Craft employees who report for their duties not later than for the beginning of the first shift on Monday morning, July 10th, may do so with resumption of full seniority and will be treated as if their service had been continuous. Those returning after that time, if accepted, and those newly hired, will rank as new employees.

We sincerely urge you to make up your minds individually and to act for the best interests of yourselves, your families, and the country, which is dependent upon your loyal service.

HALE HOLDEN, President.

Grade Crossings a Menace to Life and Limb

In the United States during 1921 there were 1,072 persons killed and 4,818 injured at grade crossings—figures that tell a deplorable story of disregard for safety. The Chicago Motor Club, through Motor News, is constantly urging its members to "stop, look and listen" to avoid chance of killing engines by lowering gears at crossings. The danger signals erected in danger spots in the city and on the highways prove our vivid interest in the movement for safety—we urge all motorists to heed them. This is only part of the great work shown in the "Story of the Chicago Motor Club." Let us send it to you.

COURT RULING FAILS TO ZONING

Bostrom Sure Ordinance V

Despite the recent decision declaring the zoning ordinance of the city of Chicago to be unconstitutional, the zoning ordinance of the city of Chicago is still in effect. The decision was made by the Supreme Court of the United States, which held that the zoning ordinance of the city of Chicago was not a valid exercise of the police power of the city. The decision was made on the basis of the fact that the zoning ordinance of the city of Chicago was not a valid exercise of the police power of the city.

Attorneys familiar with the recent decision, continued to be unduly concerned. The decision was made on the basis of the fact that the zoning ordinance of the city of Chicago was not a valid exercise of the police power of the city. ## COURT RULING FAILS TO CHECK ZONING PLANS

Bostrom Sure Proposed Ordinance Will Hold.

Despite the recent Supreme court decision declaring that legislation aimed at the state is discriminatory and unconstitutional, the Chicago zoning ordinance will be continued today.

Mr. Bostrom said: "If the courts of the zoning system and the safeguards to property owners, including a board of appeal and public hearings on all mooted questions, are properly presented to the courts, no court will invalidate it in my opinion."

Attorneys Oppose View.

Attorneys familiar with the zoning act and the recent court decision, however, continued to hold that the courts undoubtedly will follow the rule recently laid down and that this would mean invalidation of any zoning ordinance prepared under the terms of the state zoning act.

Mr. Bostrom and Assistant Corporation Counsel Leon Hornstein explained that even if the zoning ordinance is knocked out by the courts the work of the zoning commission, which includes a detailed property survey of the city and other work costing about $50,000, will not be valueless.

"Zoning is necessary without which Chicago's development will be handicapped seriously," Mr. Bostrom asserted. "It is coming sooner or later and the work we are doing now will be of value sometime. Public sentiment will demand zoning in the near future."

Count on New Constitution.

Ratification of the new constitution, which would give Chicago full zoning powers, is the only way to make absolutely sure of immediate action to safeguard residential property against the encroachments of industry and insure a well ordered development of the city, Mr. Hornstein asserted. "Mr. Hornstein reiterated that the Supreme court decision knocks the present zoning statute 'groovy'."

OHIOAN OUR NEXT PRESIDENT—YES! BUT WHO IS HE?

Washington, D. C., July 5.—(Special.)—The first faint rumblings of 1924 presidential booms were heard in the senate today.

Senator Shortridge (Cal.), Republican, undertook to start the ball for a second term for President Harding and unintentionally brought on a boom from the Democratic side for Senator Pomerehne (Ohio).

In the course of a colloquy with Senator Pomerehne over the tariff Senator Shortridge remarked:

"Ohio has been in the habit of giving birth to presidents and great senators, and I cannot look into the future, but I am sure—as sure as I know that the sun will gild this dome tomorrow—that Ohio will have a son in the presidential chair for a good many years to come."

"The senator from Ohio (Mr. Pomerehne) is in good health," interrupted Senator King (Utah), Democrat.

"And I think I know who that son will be," continued Senator Shortridge. "He will be the broad-minded, luminous minded, great hearted thoroughbred Republican-American, Warren G. Harding."

"The modesty of my friend, the senior senator from Ohio, precludes his replying," said Senator Ashurst (Ariz.), Democrat. "I am sure that all on this side will join in agreeing that the next president will be from Ohio, but we are equally sure that the distinguished senator from California has confused the names."

Three Jurors Tentatively Accepted in "Big 3" Case

Examination of prospective jurors for service in the trial of Fred "Frenchy" Mader, Timothy "Big Tim" Murphy, Cornelius "Cur" Ryan, and others for alleged conspiracy resulting in the death of Policeman Terrence Lyons will continue today. Four jurors have been sworn in out of more than 500 veniremen examined, and three were tentatively accepted yesterday.

The trial of Thomas Keafney, former president of the Building Trades council; Thomas Flynn, Arthur Wallack, and Frank Curran, indicted on charges of extortion, was continued yesterday by Judge Joseph B. David until Sept. 15. Alleged irregularities in connection with construction of the Biltmore theater resulted in indictment of the quartet.

The Fashions of France, the Fashions of New York; the Places to Dine, the Places to Dance; the Frock for Formalities, the Frock for the Tub; the Gaieties, Pleasures, and Engaging Follies of Summer New York Are in This July Fifteenth Number of Vogue.

NEW YORK in Summer

VOGUE has made a new kind of number, called "New York in Summer", and devoted to modes and gaieties. The New York shops, for instance, offer opportunities to the alert shopper; Vogue knows them all. There are certain places to go for French models, French novelties, and copies of imports at advantageous figures. There are smart things to be had for resort wear at less than resort prices. There are town clothes for summer day, dinner, and evening wear. There are also the Paris fashions—six pages of them.

Then there are the fairy godmothers of the beauty shops, who change wind-burned complexions and salt-marked hair into rose-petals and spun-silk again. Women who know their New York always repair the ravages of sun and summer here, and Vogue tells you just how to find the magic door you need.

As for the theatres, roof-gardens, and amusements of town, Vogue knows them all. Where to dine and dance, where to take luncheon, where to tea-and-muffin—this number tells you of all the right places. There is also an article on the pleasant wayside inns within motoring distance—their clientele, their music, the kind and quality of their food.

If you are going through New York—or if you are running up to town for a July day—or if you are just staying in town and need amusement twice as much as the casual visitor, you'll enjoy this New York in Summer number.

Every voter who receives one of these ballots is urged to mark and mail it at once. Whichever policy on Prohibition and the Soldiers' Bonus you favor, be sure to back it now by your vote, because your vote will help to strengthen your side in determining the final policy.

ALL CLASSES OF VOTERS in all States and all communities in the Nation are being polled with complete impartiality. They include business men, merchants, farmers, manufacturers, railroad employees, bankers, clerks, builders, contractors, superintendents, managers, carpenters, plasterers, plumbers, painters, mechanics, printers, miners, steel-workers, workers in every trade and branch of industry, both union and non-union, professional men and women of all classes, including lawyers, doctors, clergymen, authors, actors, newspaper men, dentists, engineers, educators, architects, musicians, etc.; in short, all the classes of men and women who make up the voting population in all parts of the country.

NO PROPAGANDA OF ANY KIND is connected with this great National Poll of the American people. The Literary Digest is always strictly nonpartisan and impartial on all controversial questions. It records the facts and the opinions of all parties and all classes. That is why it has come to be regarded by millions of Americans as the one representative and indispensable periodical record of all phases of American life.

EVERY WEEK FROM EVERY STATE IN THE UNION

The results will appear in THE LITERARY DIGEST. All the figures will be given in detail and will be analyzed and explained, State by State, until the poll is completed. The first announcement will be in the July 8th issue. These reports will have unique and decisive interest for political leaders, the press, and citizens of the whole country. DIGEST readers, of course, will get them first and in the most complete detail.

BOARD OF TRADE MEN TO INSPECT CAMP ALGONQUIN

Journey Will Be Made by Automobiles.

BY THE REV. W. B. NORTON.
A caravan of automobiles carrying 100 members of the Chicago Board of Trade will start at 1:30 o'clock this afternoon from Jackson boulevard and Sherman street, for Camp Algonquin, forty miles from Chicago on the Fox river.

The expedition was planned by the benevolent committee of the Board of Trade, of which Al Booth is chairman, to enable all members of the board, by inspection or through reports brought back by others, to learn how extensive and how well regulated is the camp for Chicago's undernourished poor, which the board is helping maintain.

Camp "Happy Partnership."
Camp Algonquin is a happy partnership affair. At the camp no one makes any distinction as to mine or thine. It is just Camp Algonquin, with its big trees, running river, its birds and gophers, its bowls of milk, airy beds for rest, its fun, cheer and health. There is one partner in Camp Algonquin which is of the highest importance and must never be overlooked. It is the army of Tribune readers whose contributions help pay the bills. The Board of Trade keeps up its share splendidly in buildings and in current supplies. This Tribune makes its personal contribution in addition to the funds that come in from the readers. The Oak Park churches have erected buildings and maintain continued interest. The Chicago and Northwestern railroad gives free transportation.

Every Dollar Brings Comfort.
But none of the other partners can take the place of the benevolent public, and in making an appeal to the public there is a great satisfaction. The public can be assured that every dollar contributed goes directly to the benefit of the poor mothers and little children. Every dollar you give brings comfort and joy that would be lacking if you did not give.

It means something to every one who helps and to all who enjoy the hospitality of the camp that 2,000 mothers and children can through the summer find a new meaning to life and the sense of brotherhood.

COSTS $10 TO $20 PER DAY.

For further information, write to the "To Be With the Government" at 100 N. Dearborn street, Chicago, or to the "To Be With the Government" at 100 N. Dearborn street, Chicago, or to the "To Be With the Government" at 100 N. Dearborn street, Chicago.

URGE TEACHERS' PENSIONS AT N. E. A. MEETING

Chicago Man May Get Presidency.

Boston, Mass., July 5.—This was country school day in the program of the National Education association, with the attention of the delegates directed almost entirely to the problems of rural life and education.

The representative assembly, which held its first business session, considered the report of the rural school committee, of which John F. Sims, president of the state normal school, Stevens Point, Wis., is chairman, and a report of the committee on county superintendents' problems.

Asks Better Schools.
George A. Works of the New York State College of Agriculture urged that systems of state support be put on such a basis that the country child may have school facilities comparable with those of the city child. The abolition of small district schools and the substitution of a county unit system was recommended by Agnes Samuel.

GIRL DROPS LOVE SUIT AGAINST N. E. BENSINGER

Following her failure to appear to present the case, Judge Franklin
H. Briggs yesterday dismissed the $10,000 breach of promise suit brought by Miss Helen Earle against Norman E.
Bensinger, grandson of the founder of the Brunswick-Balke-Comander company.

The suit was filed in 1921, and alleged that Bensinger, whose father, Louis
A. Bensinger, is well known as the owner of numerous loop billiard halls, promised on several occasions to marry
Miss Earle.

Two weeks after the suit was filed, Mrs. J. Earle Bensinger, filed suit for divorce, which was granted on grounds of cruelty. No mention of Miss
Earle was made in Mrs. Bensinger's bill.

Attorney Charles E. Erbstein, counsel for Bensinger, moved for dismissal.

NEW YORK

EVERY TWENTY-FOUR HOURS, 125,000 visitors come into Greater New York, according to figures given the Merchants' Association of New York by the railroads entering the city. During 1921, the total visitors numbered 45,945,278, or nearly half of the entire population of the United States. These figures do not include commuters. In commenting on this vast influx of visitors, the Merchants' Association says:

"These statistics indicate why it is that the City of New York furnishes the best market, both wholesale and retail, in the world. The tides of commuters, numbering 300,000 a day, do a large part of their retail buying in New York City, while a considerable part of the other visitors come from various parts of the United States to purchase stock here."

There is no possible contradiction of the fact that New York sets the Merchandising Standard of the Country. "I saw it in a New York shop," and "They are wearing this in New York," have become generally accepted selling-arguments from Coast to Coast.

It is interesting in this connection to point out that during the first five months of this year, The World, Morning and Sunday, gained 673,846 lines of advertising, or 32% of the entire gains registered by the six morning newspapers of New York. The most conclusive gain in all classifications was that of 457,000 lines in National Advertising, credited to The World, Morning and Sunday, and The Evening World in the five months from January 1st to May 31st. Nothing in the shape of figures could more soundly establish these newspapers as powerful influences in the national distribution of merchandise. That their gains should have been registered in the commercial capital of the country, is sufficient to establish them as important factors in any campaign designed to accomplish the sale and distribution of merchandise in America's Greatest Area of Retail Sales.

A Tribute from one of the Leading Critical Authorities of the World

In the hour when shipping rules our Press, the American newspaper, which is supposed to be the model, shows a return to seriousness. Take the "New York World," never a negligible paper for intellectuals. In the week of Mr. Spender's retirement, I read an admirable survey of the Washington Congress from the pen of Mr. Walter Lippmann, recently appointed its foreign editor. The article occupied a whole page of its issue. Imagine our popular Press engaging itself to such an adventure in "brightness!"

During this period, The World, Morning and Sunday, and The Evening World carried more Dry Goods advertising than any other two newspapers in New York under one ownership, with a lead of 68,148 lines over their nearest competitors.

The World's gain in total lineage in these five months was 11.8%, a greater percentage than any other paper in the morning field, with the exception of The News, a tabloid. The Sunday World led its field, with a gain of 10.4%, and The World Gravure registered a gain of 11.1%.

One of the most conspicuous increases in this period was that of 66.6% shown by The Evening World in the advertising of Food Stuffs—an unanswerable indication of its home appeal.

These and other gains were large enough to establish The World and The Evening World as mediums to be reckoned with in any consideration having to do with efficient and economical distribution of advertised goods, entirely aside from their importance in indicating the trend of business conditions throughout the country.

Main Street

IT'S CALLED Broadway, and it's fifteen miles long. Within twenty-five miles of its southern extremity there are 8,000,000 people, with another 6,000,000, or 14,000,000 in all, directly dependent for food, clothing and the necessities of life upon the activities that radiate from this most famous of all "Main Streets."

They provide business for 16,000 grocers, 2,500 druggists, 7,500 retailers of dry goods and clothing, 1,200 hardware and house-furnishing dealers, an equal number of dealers in electrical appliances, 800 furniture stores and 3,500 dealers in automobile supplies and accessories, which includes garages.

They consume 1,250,000 pound-leaves of bread a day, spread it with 315,000 pounds of butter, and follow it up with 3,750,000 pints of milk. Every week they need enough meat, cereals and flour to make up a train 76 miles long, pulled by 200 locomotives.

Whereas the average resident of the United States has less than $60 in the savings bank, the average New Yorker, man, woman and child, has $280 laid away for a rainy day. The average income along this "Main Street" is $4,000 per year, and Uncle Sam collects about 25% of his total income tax from the folks in New York.

Haven't you something you would like to distribute along Main Street, New York?

From "The Book of Graphs"

ONLY BY STUDYING carefully the various considerations that go to make advertising values, can the advertiser arrive at a true approximation of the service actually rendered by a medium in which he elects to buy space.

The New York World's "Book of Graphs" seeks to place this definite and exact information in the hands of the advertiser.

At the outset, it shows the milline rate of The World, morning and Sunday, and The Evening World to be the most economical combination purchasable in the advertising world.

In "city circulation"—circulation within daily reach of the retail merchant—these two newspapers far outdistance any other combination in cost per line per thousand, which, after all, is the advertiser's best basis of computation.

On the basis of a 10,000-line contract, it shows a value unapproachable by any other morning-and-evening combination available in Greater New York,—58c per line, as against a range, among The World's competitors, of from 62c to $1.74 per line.

It shows The World Gravure to have a fifty-two-time rate of 26.27c per line per thousand as against a rate of 34.93c charged by its nearest competitor in the Sunday Gravure field. Within New York City, The World Gravure furnishes the advertiser with 18% more circulation than its three Sunday morning competitors combined, at a saving of more than 40% in rate.

Copies of The World's "Book of Graphs" will be gladly mailed to any address on request. No advertiser is justified in considering the New York market without consulting this compact and authoritative book of facts.

"TOO EXCITING," SAYS
HUNGARY OF BASEBALL

BUDAPEST, Hungary, July 5.—[B
Associated Press.]—Hungary today

witnessed the first baseball game ever played in this country when a team of American legionnaires and consular guards, led by Capt. W. C. Vaughn, lost a Fourth of July game to a similar team from Belgrade, captained by Consul Patton, 20 to 1. The Budapest team had as mascot a goose painted red, white and blue, while the Patton team had two camels serving in similar capacity.

The American minister, Theodore Brentano of Chicago, pitched the first ball.

A great crowd attended, but the Hungarian sporting writers were of the opinion that the game was too exciting for the Hungarian temperament and declared that Magyar teams would be sure to leave too many dead on the diamond.

If Mr. Ray would be content to let somebody else direct him he would make better pictures. In this one, he, himself, is splendid, but he by no means gets the best that could be gotten from either his supporting cast or the story. One can't do everything, you know.

Amos is the sad-eyed youth's name in "The Deuce of Spades." He has a restaurant in Boston which he doesn't like. He wants to go to Montana and grow up with the country.

He goes west. Through with the restaurant business forever, he thinks. He will be a prospector—discover gold and everything. Also, those slips of paper cups and lips! The first thing that happens to him is to have the only eating place in town wished on him.

A girl goes with the place. How? Well, better see the picture to find out. Anyway, it seems to me she's sort of unnecessary from her first appearance until her last, when she's the only one left.

Amos's aunt is a funny, though she's meant to be and she isn't appealing, though she's meant to be—and I don't think she needed to be there. That's all. I say that at the very end of the picture shows him getting the picture.

TRIBUNE COOK BOOK

BY JANE EDDINGTON.

Oatmeal Cakes.

Plain cooked oatmeal packed and chilled, then sliced and suited or fried, is one of the most useful things suitable for hot weather eating. It may be fried and crumbed and fried in deep fat, and then will have a creamy center like that of a cornstarch cream treated in the same fashion. The latter is an excellent substitute for the sweet fritter, while the oatmeal is a good substitute for the sweetbread, and will taste quite as meaty. It has the protein, too.

Cooked oatmeal is an excellent extended recipe, as in the following tested recipe: One pound of freshly ground oatmeal, two slices dark bread, half tablespoon flour, a bit of pepper, one and a half cups of cold cooked oatmeal, one large onion chopped fine, one teaspoon of salt, one egg. Mix the oatmeal and oatmeal together thoroughly, add bread which has been soaked in water or milk and squeeze dry, onion and other seasonings and the egg and beat like a cake batter, adding a little liquid if necessary to make beatable. Roll into cakes or balls and saute in a hot frying pan until well browned all over. Add a little water, cover the pan, and let the meat simmer over a low fire for ten to fifteen minutes. Serve hot garnished with crisp parsley or water cress. The simmering process is for the making of a gravy. The cakes may be served without that.

An extra egg and some butter might be used with the oatmeal and the meat dispensed with. In cooking such cakes, to make them look like meat instead of a cereal, put around the sides after they are in the pan with a knife or spoon, and flatten them somewhat.

Blanche Sweet has been cast for the principal role in "Quincy Adams Sawyer," soon to be filmed by Metro. She's Mrs. Marshall Nelson now, you know.

upward of those who would kid him, and, incidentally winning the girl who went with the restaurant. Heaven knows she would have fallen into his arms like a ripe plum at any moment.

The men in the supporting cast of "The Deuce of Spades" are good actors; the photography and sets are all right. And all in all it isn't a bad picture. But it COULD have been so much better.

Phoney Phonetics.
In answering a call on our office telephone, a man inquired for Mr. Edwards and I politely replied that he was out of the office but would return shortly and asked if I might call him when he returned.

He said, "Yes, this is Mr. Edwards. I took him to be our employer's son, who is fond of playing pranks on us, and answered, 'O, you boned!' Why didn't you say that in the first place. Wait till I catch you!"

I didn't know of my mistake until later in the afternoon when Mr. Edwards called Mr. Edwards again and said, "You've got a funny girl in your office. She answered me so quietly this noon."

Behind the Scenes.
A young man who had "matrimonial intentions" had been invited to our house for dinner. To show him that I was a real cook I had prepared an elaborate dinner. To prove that mother had no hand in the preparations, I had made a big show of keeping her in the parlor.

When we were all seated around the table the young man said, "Jean, this is a delicious dinner, whereupon small Sister Dorothy piped up: 'Hump! You ought to see the kitchen!' N. A. D."

A FRIEND IN NEED

Widow Asks Bathing Suit.
"I am a widow with two little girls. I like to swim, but have no bathing suit as when I have bought them for the children the money is all gone that can be spared for such a purpose. If any of your readers has a faded or torn bathing suit, size 38 or 40, that she is going to replace with a new one, I would like to have the old one which I could dye and mend. I did not go swimming all last year because I had no suit. Mrs. W. G."

Who has the required article? Surely a small request but one that will give a great deal of pleasure, if fulfilled.

Asks Lawn Mower.
"I am the support of a widowed mother and we have a nice lawn, but no lawn mower and no spare money to buy one. Who has one that they are willing to give up? I thought that perhaps some one who has moved into an apartment from a house might have one they could give or lend. I would certainly appreciate it. M. F."

As M. F. says, some one who has lately moved to town from some suburb and has a lawn mower could not do better than give it to the support of a widowed mother.

 HANKE—Frank H. Manter, July 3, at

We had asked a little neighbor boy to deliver to a children's party we were giving and we included his 3 year old brother if he would come.

When the older child arrived I said: "I had invited you but not to come!"

"Yes," he wanted to slug home, "because he isn't really party age yet."

J. R.

Beania challenged with Charlotte, and when the latter went away on a visit, she seemed lost. The child's next mother suggested she should play with the little girl next door until Charlotte returned. The child herself said: "I told that Carrie was a nice girl." "Oh, she's nice enough," was the answer, "but I just haven't any taste for her!"

In the Financial Heart of Chicago

We ask every business man to pause a moment before this picture. It is an impressive visualization of Chicago's financial center. The Continental & Commercial Bank on LaSalle at Quincy—the new Federal Reserve Bank across the street and the Illinois Merchants Bank now under construction on the opposite corner. Three outstanding monuments to Chicago's financial and business prestige.

This page is an advertisement, to be sure—an advertisement for Chicago, for these three dominant financial institutions, and for the P-A-X.

The P-A-X is an Interior Private Automatic Telephone Exchange equipped with various associated services such as the code call, conference, watchmen's checking and emergency alarm. The P-A-X gives quick, accurate, secret and convenient service, 24 hours every day without the need of an operator. It saves money, time and errors.

The P-A-X is similar to the famous Automatic Telephone equipment being so widely adopted for city service, but is especially engineered and adapted to the interior communication needs of financial, commercial and industrial organizations of every type and size. The P-A-X augments and completes, but does not supplant or connect with the local and long distance telephone service.

In the Continental & Commercial Bank 300 P-A-X telephones are in daily use. 400 are being installed in the Federal Reserve Bank and 500 in the Illinois Merchants. Because speed, accuracy and secrecy are essential to 100% service, it is logical to expect such institutions as these to rely upon the P-A-X.

One thousand successful concerns in various lines of business employ the Electrical Services of the P-A-X. Upon request, one of our field engineers will survey your establishment and give you an accurate report as to how the P-A-X can PAY YOU.

TREACHEROUS LOVE BY BARRETT WILLOUGHBY

These Boreland, a prospector cruising up the Alaskan coast in his own schooner, the Boreland, arrived at Ketchikan. He and his wife, Ellen, their little son, and his wife's sister, a young and unscrupulous man, is known up and down the coast of Alaska as the White Chief.

Boreland's interest is aroused by Kilbuck's tales of a lost island on which Indian rumor has it that gold has been found. This mysterious island is supposed to be Ken Klaya, a small, uninhabited strip of land ninety miles off the coast of Ketchikan. At the mention of Boreland's adventures blood is profoundly stirred, and he decides to visit Ken Klaya.

Kilbuck encourages the prospector in this project, although he knows Ken Klaya is a barren island completely surrounded by dangerous reefs and shoals and surrounded by ships as a death trap. He is tired of the native women of his household, and Ellen's beauty and courage have fired his imagination. He decides to get rid of her husband, but Ellen upsets all his carefully laid plans by refusing to remain behind at Ketchikan, and with Jean and her young son, goes with her husband to Ken Klaya.

After a long, tiring trip, the trading company's bookkeeper at Ketchikan, captivated by the charms of Jean, makes the trip with the expedition to the island. He intends to return with the Boreland to Ketchikan after the Boreland party has been landed, but through an accident, the boat goes back without him. Kilbuck has persuaded the Borelands against young Klaya by leading him a square man and his precious woman Ellen.

INSTALLMENT XXVIII. A VISIT TO THE WEST CAMP.

All that afternoon while the gale tore at the corners of the little cabin and the sea beat with increasing violence on the beach and reefs, the men worked with hammer and saw, putting up shelves, making a table and a bedstead, and setting two bunks for Jean and Lollie, one above the other, in the adjoining room. Because he would go soon he leaving, Kayak Bill decided to pitch his tent again in the lee of the house as soon as the storm permitted, and occupy it until the Hoonah came.

The storm lasted three days. The second day the roof began to leak. The third day the rickety little porch blew down on one end and much of the chinking came out from between the logs of the cabin. When, on the fourth morning, the wind died away and the sun burst out brilliantly upon a tumbling, muddy sea and rain drenched landscape, Boreland's first thought was of repairing the house.

"We're in a devil of a stew here," he exclaimed after breakfast. "We'll have to get this place fixed up right now. Still, some of us ought to go down to the West Camp and take a look at the cache. Luckily there are no animals on the island, so we have nothing to fear from that source."

"Why can't Loll and I go down to the camp, Shane?" broke in Jean. "Then all you can get busy on the house. The poor little old thing looks as if it had a black eye, with the porch battered down over the door."

Boreland was at first not in favor of the idea, doubting that it was safe for them to go alone. At last, however, he consented.

"Keep to the upper beach line," he cautioned, as the two started out, "and remember, if the sea is breaking near the bluff when you come home wait on the other side until the tide drops before you attempt to cross."

After the long confinement in the crowded cabin Jean was as delighted as her capering little nephew to feel again the freedom of the beach. In spite of all the hardships—perhaps because of them—she was growing to love the sands of Ken Klaya, and to look upon this inhospitable ocean as a sort of fairy godmother, who, with every tide, brought up something different to lay at her feet. She never started out for a walk along the sea without expecting that delightful, childish sense of expectancy which is so keenly a part of the life of Alaska.

While Kobuk waited on ahead she and Loll, remembering the talk of beach mining to which they had so often listened, scanned the way for rub and the carrier of gold. But this morning the beach was untidy with gray names of fresh kelp and seaweeds from the deep, torn by the storm and scattered everywhere.

"O, look, Jean! The gulls have found something!" Loll's finger, pointing ahead, indicated a cloud of screaming, white breasted birds that were rising and falling on slate tipped wings over some object below them. "Let's hurry and see what it is."

But Kobuk was before them. Dashing on ahead, he plunged into the melle, fighting the gulls from their find so that they flew shrieking into the air as he and his little companion ran up to discover the remains of a large fish in the sand. It was a halibut nearly six feet long. With the exception of the bones, but a small portion and the head remained, for the birds had been gnawing on it for some time. The fish, however, looked fresh and firm and white.

Jean regarded it thoughtfully. "If we had nothing else to eat, Lollie, we might as well eat this—this is, if we got it before the gulls had been at it." It was an emergency even a great storm might be made to serve, since its violence flung up from the deep such fat as this. At any rate, the gulls appreciated it, for Jean and Loll stood there the birds had flown back, settling upon their feet, their strong, iron-colored, crimson spotted backs tearing greedily at the flesh. In their eagerness they flew thrillingly close, cold, ringed eyes staring fiercely into the faces of the two, powerful wings fanning their cheeks. Loll, seeing Jean shrink away from an overly bold bird, took her hand and tugged her away from the discordantly screaming mass.

"Gosh, Jean, if those fellows were hungry and I was alone, I bet they'd take a peck at me!"

Receding a day, at Ketchikan, when she had stood by a creek watching the salmon struggle up through the shallow water, while screaming gulls swooped, swooping down on the helpless creatures and gouged the eyes out of the living fish, Jean shuddered and quickened her steps.

They approached the tent cache at the West Camp. It appeared intact. The wind, being from the southwest, had struck with full force on the opposite side of the island. Jean untied the flap of the tent and went inside. The provisions were piled up neatly to the ridgepole at the back. Lollie, poking about among a pile of rope which, boylike, he took outside and wound about some post, Jean heard him stumbling over the guy ropes at the side. Then from the luck came his call:

"Jean! Come here!"

The girl ran out and joined him. He was pointing to the back of the tent. The pass which had fastened it to the earth were uprooted. The canvas among trees. But what filled her with momentary conjecture was that which lay at her feet. A sack of flour evidently had been dragged out from under the wall of the tent and ripped open, for the sand was whitened with a doughy substance.

At this moment it did not occur to the girl to be frightened. There were no tracks in the sand other than hers and Loll's. Evidently, she thought, in the haste to load the boat before the storm, the men had dropped the sack and it had burst open.

"But how careless of them, Loll, not to peg the tent down again," she said. Loll, however, was already headed for the first camp site made when the Boreland, on the northeast side of the island. Her call brought his eager answer:

"Aw, come on, Jean, I want to see how drowned we'd be if we'd stayed here during the storm."

Smiling to herself at the boy's love of twitting on their narrow escapes from death, real and imaginary, the girl turned and, picking up a stone, drove it into a few of the tent pegs before she followed him. On each side of the trail a few of the tent pegs had been flattened from the force of the wind and waves, and the air was filled with the sweet smell of vegetation drying in the sun. Jean approached the other side, the blue sky curved down to meet the ocean in a far straight line. The yellow green of the sea was set off by astonishing waves of clearest cobalt blue, and the flying spray from combers breaking for miles out on the North Shoals caught the sunlight in a glory of rainbow mist.

"Now, I told you, Jean," Loll nodded sagely and pointed ahead as she overtook him.

A hundred feet above the place where the first camp had been the rise of the sea had been torn by the roots and whitened drift logs and kelp were tossed about confusedly. In silence the girl stood looking at the spot. Evidently, she thought, in the haste to load the boat before the storm, the men had dropped the sack and it had burst open.

CLABAUGH QUIZ STILL EXCITES FEDERAL BLDG.

Insists Clyn's Office Only Is Under Scrutiny.

Rumors that a political cyclone is shortly to descend on several departments in the federal building continued to grow last night despite denials from investigators that anything was amiss. A statement from H. G. Clabaugh, in charge of Attorney General Daugherty's inquiry into the affairs of District Attorney Charles F. Clyn, was the first official cognizance to be given the reports.

"We are not investigating any other department than the office of the district attorney," Mr. Clabaugh said to newspapermen. "Nor will we. Our work concerns solely the operations of the district attorney's office during the last two years or more. Rumors that we are digging into the records of other departments on a fishing expedition are false."

One Confession Reported. Among the reports current in the building is that a former prominent official had confessed to Mr. Clabaugh a plot to defraud the government of several thousands of dollars and in which at least four other well known department heads were implicated.

Still other reports related to prohibition affairs and the ease with which certain, consistent violators retained their liberty. One of the reports concerns a shipment of whisky—40 barrels of it—which was confiscated by prohibition authorities and then turned back to its owners on the reported payment of a large sum of money and then reconfiscated.

Forged Permit Plot. Still another rumor tells of a scheme said to have originated within the federal building, whereby thousands of forged permits were to be handed out to Chicago saloonists, and in which one official was promised $50,000 and actually received $5,000 for his share.

These transactions, it was reported, are to be traced down through examination of records of the prohibition office and in several cases, through an inquiry into private bank accounts. At least one former prohibition official is now known to be the object of a rigid federal search. It is believed that this official, who is believed will be offered immunity from subsequent proceedings if he will furnish evidence of crooked dealings believed to be in his possession.

Those "in the know" at the building yesterday intimated that the "blow off" is due sometime in the next two months, that the investigating agencies only need the necessary time to coordinate evidence which they already have.

Meanwhile, it is said, the heads of politicians to Washington to attempt to head off a further investigation into affairs is continuing. No reports as to their success or failure have been heard yet.

Death Threats for Sleuth. Threats of death received by "Count" William Yacella, dry agent "de luxe," from various sources yesterday apparently failed to stop his onslaught against "bootleggers" and booze violators. He visited four places last night and arrested five men for alleged violation of the prohibition law. The "count" told United States Commissioner Mason that he had received more than fifty men and women seized in the last Saturday and Sunday that he received a number of warnings that he might get "knocked off."

Open to All Countries. The prize money of $100,000, the largest amount ever offered in the history of art and architecture, is open to architects of all countries. The competition will open Aug. 1, 1922, and close Nov. 1, 1922. Awards will be made by a jury headed by Alfred Granger, next president of the Illinois chapter of the American Institute of Architects. The contest will be conducted under the rules of that association.

Of the $100,000 prize money, $50,000 will be given to the architect submitting the design which wins first prize. The second prize will be $20,000 and the third prize will be $10,000. Ten architects who will be especially invited to enter the competition will receive $2,000 each.

AIN'T IT A GRAND AND GLORIOUS FEELING?

TRIBUNE BUILDING CONTEST DRAWS EYES OF ITALIANS

Architects Ask Details of Prize Contest.

That more than local and national interest has been aroused in the Tribune's $100,000 contest among architects for the designing of a building at Michigan and Austin avenues to be erected by this newspaper, was evidenced yesterday when Antonio Italian Consul G. Dall'Aglio asked for thirty copies of the contest rules and an announcement to be sent to architects in Italy.

The request came from the Italian ministry of public education, who transmitted it through the Italian ambassador in Washington. More than 500 architects have already written for particulars regarding the project, and a large proportion of them have expressed a desire to enter the competition.

What Winner Must Do. The winner of the prize must make a design of the most beautiful building in the modern world. This does not mean competitors must submit meticulous specifications and details. Only the south and west elevations of the structure and a perspective from the southwest are required.

The site, the vacant area in front of Tribune's plant, at Austin and Michigan avenues, comprising 13,500 square feet. To the south and west it overlooks the river and the commercial heart of Chicago; to the north and east it looks to the vast green stretches of parks and drives and the blue of Lake Michigan.

COL. BARNETT NAMED JURY COMMISSIONER FOR THE FIFTH TERM

Col. Joseph H. Barnett yesterday was selected jury commissioner of Cook county for a term of three years.

Col. Barnett is ending his fourth consecutive term on the jury commission. All the judges of the Circuit and Superior courts participated in the election. Col. Barnett's opponent was Charles E. Shearman, former chief clerk of the Superior court under Charles W. Yall.

Col. Barnett, long connected with the Illinois national guard, carries the record of having served as jury commissioner without regard to factional or national politics. Efficient and conscientious service is understood to be the reason why he has been re-elected.

Leave Girl Alone. Mrs. Sandoro and her mother, Mrs. Catherine Sims, had gone out in the morning, leaving the little girl alone. When Mrs. Sandoro returned shortly before noon, she found Bessel in the house.

"What are you doing here?" she demanded of Bessel. He sprang up excitedly, it is said, saying, "Let me explain, lady; let me explain." "But the truth was self evident," said Mrs. Sandoro later. I waited for no explanations. I fought him. He fought back. I seized a heavy vase and struck him over the head. He was dazed and I seized something else and struck him again. Then he closed with me.

Battle Through House. "We rolled through the house and he escaped me. I followed. On the porch I got him again. We rolled down the stairs. My clothing was almost torn from me; but I was determined not to let so contemptible a man escape."

She said she then fought him for a block down Van Buren street. A crowd gathered. Several men grew threatening when they learned the offense. Sgt. O'Hara, dragged him through the crowd to a police patrol in time to save him.

The little girl later stated Bessel came to the door about 11 o'clock. "He asked: 'Does your mamma want a telephone?' I let him come in."

Through a typographical error the bank call figures of the Immel State bank as of June 30 and published on July 4 were erroneous. The correct figures are: Loans and discounts, $340,769; total deposits, $1,627,849; cash resources, $269,445; savings deposits, $748,457. The figures show an increase in total deposits of $39,184 over those of the call of May 5.

A report was published in Monday's issue that Abe Arends, manager of Coleman's cafe, was arrested for liquor selling. He was not arrested, but appeared to sign bonds for others.

MORON CAPTURED BY WOMAN IN FRANTIC BATTLE

Following a pitched battle which started in her home and led for a block down the street, Mrs. Marion Sandoro, 2158 West Van Buren street, yesterday captured William B. Bessel, 44 years old, whom she accused of attacking her 1-year-old sister, Mabel Sims.

Bessel was arrested by Sgt. J. O'Hara after a crowd which gathered about him and Mrs. Sandoro had started to menace him. At the station he said he had been employed for twenty-five years by the telephone company as an agent.

The keeper of a rooming house where he lives at 300 South Leavitt street confirmed this, adding that he was divorced about a year ago and that he has a married son, Robert.

Leave Girl Alone. Mrs. Sandoro and her mother, Mrs. Catherine Sims, had gone out in the morning, leaving the little girl alone. When Mrs. Sandoro returned shortly before noon, she found Bessel in the house.

"What are you doing here?" she demanded of Bessel. He sprang up excitedly, it is said, saying, "Let me explain, lady; let me explain." "But the truth was self evident," said Mrs. Sandoro later. I waited for no explanations. I fought him. He fought back. I seized a heavy vase and struck him over the head. He was dazed and I seized something else and struck him again. Then he closed with me.

The Inquiring Reporter Every Day He Asks Five Persons, Picked at Random, a Question.

The Tribune will pay $5 each for questions which are accepted for the Inquiring Reporter to ask. Send in your name and address with your questions to "The Inquiring Reporter, Chicago Tribune." Questions will be returned. For today's question Miss Grace Spaulding, Leola, Ill., was awarded $5.

The Question. During working hours when would you rather be bossed by a man or a woman?

Where Asked. On Michigan avenue at Ontario street.

The Answer. Robert Robinson, 353 Wilson avenue, advertising-by-man. A man doesn't like to be bossed by a woman, anyhow. Seriously, a man is more likely to be sold, stable, businesslike. A woman is more prone to be temperamental and to act the part of the modern woman.

Miss Marion Riffe, La Grange, Ill., artist—By a man, any day. A man won't find as many faults with your work as a woman will. She will scrutinize every angle of your work; while with a man he will simply let it go for what it's worth. Men are usually better pay, too.

Maxwell Karthard, 1228 Argyle street, salesman—By a man, sure. I imagine all men preferring work under the direction of a man. The girls in the office will do better work, too, because they respect and look up to a man. When a woman boss gets to be 35 years old or so she will wish that she knew less about bossing and more about handling a skillet and raising children.

Miss Beatrice Ringquist, 3235 Glenwood avenue, high school student—I have not gone to work yet, but when I do I'll want a man boss. Men haven't the nerve to tell a woman to do more than she is able to do. A man respects a woman, and he'd rather do something for her to save her the trouble. A woman won't do anything like that.

Charles Kries, 1844 West Jackson boulevard, dairyman—I'd rather be bossed by a man, because if I get sore I can tell him just how I feel about it. With a woman, a fellow would have to use particular language. She can talk to you, all right, but you are handicapped in talking to her.

Dr. Richard Offer Again Wins Sachs Art Fellowship. In recognition of his research work abroad, Harvard university for the second time has awarded the Sachs Fellowship in Fine Arts to Dr. Richard Offer, former professor of history of art at Chicago university. Dr. Offer is an authority on primitive Italian painting. The Sachs fellowship carries the highest stipend of any granted by Harvard. The winner is privileged to pursue his studies in whatever part of the world he prefers.

WM. R. PARKER, CRIMINAL COURT CLERK, IS DEAD

Dies of Pneumonia After Week's Illness.

William R. Parker, clerk of the Criminal court and Republican nominee at the recent primaries to succeed himself died last night in his 44th year, after a week's illness. He was taken ill a week ago yesterday with a cold and it developed rapidly into the fatal disease.

Mr. Parker was a member of the Board of Trade and one of the best known figures in Illinois grain circles. For the last twelve years he had been actively interested in politics in Chicago.

He was born in Dixon, Ill., Oct. 23, 1881; the son of Mr. and Mrs. Orlando Parker who came from New England seventy-five years ago and settled near Dixon. The family came to Chicago in the early '40s. As soon as he arrived at manhood, Mr. Parker entered the grain business in which three brothers also were prominent. Later he and his brother, George G. Parker, formed the commission firm of George G. Parker & Bro., long a leading grain house.

Elected to Council. Mr. Parker entered politics twelve years ago in the old Sixty-third ward, where John R. Thompson was a controlling factor in that section. Through Mr. Thompson's organization Mr. Parker was elected alderman in 1910 and served until 1912. In 1915 he was nominated as a Brundage Republican for clerk of the Criminal court and elected. Again last April he was named for the same position by the Crowe-Brundage Republicans.

In 1918 Mr. Parker married Miss Mary M. Feynher, who under the name of Mary Simonson Parker, has achieved note as an author. She and her sister, Gliman Monro Parker, long a newspaper man in Chicago, but recently in the same business in New York, are authors. Both were at the bedside when death came. Two brothers, Albert F. of Chicago and George G. of Lake Geneva, Wis., also survive.

Mr. Parker was an Elk and belonged to several clubs. The funeral arrangements will be announced today.

QUESTION OF SUCCESSOR

Mr. Parker's death precipitates a delicate political situation in Cook county. His term would have expired in December. As viewed by political leaders and constitutional lawyers last night, the question seemed to be open as to the method of choosing his successor.

One verdict was that the board of county commissioners has the power to name a clerk to succeed Mr. Parker. The county board now stands 8 to 7 Republican, in case all Republicans act together. In that event a Republican would be chosen.

Another construction of the statutes was that the choice of a successor rests entirely with the judges of the Criminal court. Whether the judges all those who are temporarily assigned thereto seems to be questionable, but any way it is figured, if the judges are to make the decision, the new clerk would be a Democrat. The Democratic judges having an easy majority in the Criminal court at present constituted.

Fifty Jobs Are Affected. Aside from the immediate patronage of the Criminal clerk's office, carrying approximately fifty appointments, the angle arises as to the method of filling the vacancy. Unofficially, members of the bar suggested that the signature of the "real" clerk of the Criminal court is required in performing any sentence or other court order that may be entered by any Criminal court judge.

The vacancy on the ticket has been cared for in a resolution of the Republican county convention

BEARISH VIEWS CHECK ADVANCE IN WHEAT MART

BY CHARLES MICHAELS.

News and sentiment was generally favorable for a lower range of wheat prices. There was a strong rally at one time, but the finish was easy, with net losses of  $\frac{1}{8}$  to  $\frac{1}{4}$  c. Corn showed independent strength and closed  $\frac{1}{4}$  to  $\frac{1}{2}$  c. higher, while oats were  $\frac{1}{8}$  to  $\frac{1}{4}$  c. higher and rye  $\frac{1}{4}$  c. higher to  $\frac{1}{2}$  c. lower.

Weather conditions in the American and Canadian northwest were favorable for the growth of the spring wheat crop and temperatures in the Dakotas and Minnesota were too low for the rapid development of black rust. This influenced considerable local pressure at times. Minneapolis July, which has been leading the advance of late, turned very weak toward the last and broke  $\frac{1}{8}$  c. from Monday's finish and closed  $\frac{1}{8}$  c. lower, helping to weaken the local market.

There was nothing in the corn situation to cause shorts any uneasiness, but the persistent buying of July by cash interests and buying of July and selling of September with lessened pressure caused that market to show independent strength. September advanced to  $\frac{1}{8}$  c. a new high on the present upturn, and closed at  $\frac{1}{8}$  c.

July oats gained fractionally on the September, selling at  $\frac{1}{8}$  c. under early, against  $\frac{1}{8}$  c. recently, and closed at a discount of  $\frac{1}{8}$  c. A local long sold September freely. Cash demand slow.

Strength in July rye, which went to  $\frac{1}{4}$  c. over the September against  $\frac{1}{8}$  c. under Monday, was due to buying by a cash house, presumably removing hedges against sales to exporters. Local traders and the northwest sold September.

Scattered commission house liquidation was on in land and the close was at net losses of  $\frac{1}{8}$  c. to  $\frac{1}{4}$  c. Rye were off  $\frac{1}{8}$  c. to  $\frac{1}{4}$  c. Brokers who usually act for packers were the best buyers on the way down. Trade was not large. Prices follow:

MEX PETE STOCK TO BE TAKEN OFF EXCHANGE LIST

New York, July 5.—[Special.]—Mexican Petroleum, the stormy petrel of the New York stock exchange will disappear from the trading list before the end of the summer and probably within the next few weeks. Recent developments in the market action of the shares, in which they advanced from 125 to 204 $\frac{1}{2}$  within the course of a little more than a week, and have since declined to 165 in about the same period of time, have convinced directors of the corporation that it would be to the advantage of all concerned if the small remaining capital stock outstanding were called in and exchanged for shares of the Pan-American Petroleum and Transport company, which company already controls more than 75 per cent of Mexican Petroleum. The Mexican dropped 10 points yesterday and the Pan-American issue about 6 points.

Not even USCO ever touched this value before

30 x 3 1/2 - $10.90

WHEN you look at a 30 x 3 1/2 USCO at $10.90 think back for a minute as far as you can remember USCO.

The truth is that men have always found USCO an outstanding money's worth no matter what its price.

Today at $10.90 USCO maintains its established standard of quality.

And because of the new price, it sets a new index of tire value.

Men who have used USCO have never been inclined to measure its value by the general run of tires. Since last fall when USCO established the $10.90 price range they have recognized it as a value beyond any possible comparison.

A still greater money's worth than even USCO itself had reached before.

First Carolinas Joint Stock Land Bank

(North and South Carolina)

5% Farm Loan Bonds

ISSUED UNDER THE FEDERAL FARM LOAN ACT

Dated May 1, 1922

Due May 1, 1952

Redeemable at par and interest on May 1, 1952 or any interest date thereafter. Coupon Bonds $1,000 each, fully negotiable. Coupons and redemption bonds interchangeable. Principal and interest (May and November 1) payable at Chemical National Bank, New York, or First Carolinas Joint Stock Land Bank, Columbia, S. C.

These bonds are declared to be instrumentalities of the Government of the United States, by an Act of Congress, which was fully sustained, as to both constitutionality and tax exemption, by a decision of the Supreme Court of the United States rendered February 28, 1921.

Henry F. Lever, formerly a member of the Farm Loan Board and for seventeen years a member of the Agricultural Committee of the House of Representatives and now President of the Bank, has summarized the salient features of these bonds as follows:

Secured by deposit of first mortgages on approved farm lands, or Government bonds or certificates of indebtedness. Pledged mortgages protected by at least 100% of additional land value equity. Bonds further protected by $250,000 paid-in capital stock carrying double liability and $25,000 paid-in surplus.

Bank operated under a charter granted by the Federal Farm Loan Board, which exercises rigid supervisory powers over the Land Banks, approves all loans, appoints registrars and appraisers, prescribes the terms and form of bond issues and examines the conditions of the banks at least twice a year.

The Federal Farm Loan Act and the regulations of the Federal Farm Loan Board rigidly prescribe the investments of the Land Banks, the amortization of loans and the accumulation of reserves.

Territory served, one of the richest, oldest and most thoroughly established agricultural territories in the United States.

Bank exceptionally favored through having an unusually strong management consisting of men who have had long and successful experience in territory served.

Our circular describing the operation of Joint Stock Land Banks with particular reference to these Bonds may be had upon request.

BUSINESS NEWS IN BRIEF

(Copyright, 1922, By Associated Press Service.)

NEW YORK—Cut price sales are being received by the Fairchild News Service. Heavy rainfall, with its consequent check on merchandise movements, has partly responsible. Women's wear are cut considerably more than men's.

BONNEBERG, Germany.—A. E. Krueger, manager, operators of a chain of 3 and 4-story stores in the United States, has completed a building here to serve as a headquarters for German toys.

DELAWARE—American buyers are urged to deliver of linen before Sept. 1, pending pending tariff rates. Prices throughout the market are higher, but not notably changed.

BRADFORD—British wool prices appear to have stopped their decline. The following representative asking prices are nominal: 3/4 inch, 4/4, 5/4, 6/4, 7/4, 8/4, 9/4, 10/4, 11/4, 12/4, 13/4, 14/4, 15/4, 16/4, 17/4, 18/4, 19/4, 20/4, 21/4, 22/4, 23/4, 24/4, 25/4, 26/4, A general widening of the price range resulted from an extremely uneven hog trade when weighty packers and common mixed classes showed a tendency to lower levels, while best light and medium weight butchers ruled steady to 10c higher. Top reached 5c higher at $10.90, at the start, although best offerings at the close moved around $10.80. Packers were comparatively liberal buyers during a late weakness; yet 10,000 were unsold at the close. Shippers absorbed 5,000 of the fresh arrivals.

Eastern competition forced a new high top for the year on choice cattle, $10.25, directly after a strong to slightly higher opening. Export buyers were strengthening factors in the trade to some extent, securing a total of 200 head on the initial day this week. Twelve hundred pound steers were favored, bringing the extreme top, while 1,000 lb averages sold at $10.15 and 900 lb yearlings at $10.00. Quality was generally better than recent offerings. Better grades of butcher stock gained 10c to 15c. Calves sold 25c higher.

LAMBS UP 25 CENTS

Receipts at the sheep house, 8,000, were below general expectations, and a strong undertone advanced lambs fully 25c above initial day of the week, while the small sheep supply remained unchanged. Top natives and westerns sold at $12.50, with Idaho feeders at $12.50.

19.30. Cull natives moved slowly at $7.00@8.00.
 Seven western markets received 40,000 cattle, 15,000 hogs, and 25,000 sheep, against 41,000 cattle, 104,000 hogs, and 27,000 sheep the previous Wednesday and 26,000 cattle, 70,000 hogs, and 39,000 sheep a year ago.

Receipts at Chicago for today are estimated at 10,000 cattle, 30,000 hogs, and 10,000 sheep, against 10,643 cattle, 30,325 hogs, and 11,224 sheep the corresponding Thursday a year ago.

Our Booklet on Mid-Year Investment Opportunities is Now Ready

If your money is earning less than 7% with safety, you will be interested at this investment period of the year in our booklet just off the press entitled "Investment Opportunities". For the reinvestment of your interest funds, dividends, money in the bank, or other accumulations, this booklet describes a diversified list of choice first mortgage real estate gold bonds yielding 7%. These bonds are protected by the American Bond Safeguards which have worked out over a long period of years to the satisfaction of thousands of conservative investors.

The issues described in "Investment Opportunities" alone total more than $10,000,000, and are secured by well-located hotel, apartment, and commercial properties. Three of the offerings are in Chicago—the Harbor View Apartments to be erected on Sheridan Road, overlooking Lake Michigan and the Yacht Harbor; Sheridan Surf Apartments now being built on Surf Street, 200 feet west of Sheridan Road and the Marlborough Apartments being erected at the northwest corner of Lake View Avenue and Deming Place. All are in exclusive north shore residential districts.

Other issues are on the Alden Park Manor Apartments now being built in Detroit, the Manhattan Square Apartments to be erected in New York, the Walker Hotel and Apartments in Washington, said by the Washington Star to be the largest private construction enterprise ever undertaken in the capital city.

The New York Times.

New York, July 6.—[Special]—There was only slight reflection in the stock market today of the decision of the maintenance of way employees of the railroads not to join the striking shopmen.

There has been confidence all along that the strike could not last for any great length of time, and just as prices did not go down when the strike was called, so today they failed to respond in any vigorous manner to the possibility that the shopmen would be forced to carry on their strike without assistance from other classes of railroad labor.

Stocks Show Strength.

The stock market showed strength generally, but for the most part the changes were narrow, and the volume of trading, while larger than that of last Monday, was far from brisk. One of the outstanding developments was weakness in the oil shares, particularly in the case of those companies operating in Mexico. News of salt water in the Mexican fields apparently has lost some of its influence on market affairs. Mexican Petroleum dropped 10 points; Mexican Seaboard, 11½, and Pan-American, 4½.

The shares of the railroad companies, in a number of instances, moved up moderately, but the better outlook as to the labor situation for the railroads was to be discovered in the action of the bond market, rather than in stocks.

Bull Bonds in Good Demand.

All the railroad bonds were in good demand at rising prices. This increased activity in the railroad issues, however, was not sufficient to hold corporation bonds in the forefront of trading. After a lapse of some days the Liberty bonds resumed their leadership, a heavy demand asserting itself throughout the list. The foreign exchange market followed an irregular course, with pronounced weakness developing in lire and francs, while sterling showed strength. At the low price today French francs were only about 1/4 of a cent above the low point of the year. Belgian francs also went close to their low for the year of 7.51 when they touched 7.74.

Federal Mining and Smelting.

C. L. Q., Antigo, Wis.—The Federal Mining and Smelting company reported an operating profit of $223,160 in 1932, against $1,071,522 in 1930. After all charges and payment of $479,448 in dividends there was a deficit for the year of $230,222, compared with surplus of $538,000 after payment of $718,185 in dividends in 1930. As of Dec. 31, 1932, current assets were $1,764,763, current liabilities, $188,884, and net current assets, $1,575,879. The preferred 7 per cent cumulative stock. It has paid at various rates since 1911. In 1930, 6 per cent was paid; in 1921, 4 per cent. On March 15, 1932, 1 per cent was paid and on June 15, 14 per cent, which latter puts it on a 5 per cent annual basis. Considerable back dividends which have accrued remain unpaid. This preferred stock is speculative.

Hartford Automobile Parts.

J. W. B., Kalamazoo, Mich.—The Hartford Automobile Parts company was placed in receivers' hands in April, 1931. On May 5, 1932, the company's creditors purchased at auction, factory, machinery, and all other assets except cash in bank, for $250,000, exclusive of the mortgages totaling $75,000. On May 15, 1932, the Superior Manufacturing company offered to purchase the assets from the creditors' committee for $250,000 in cash and $250,000 in 7 per cent preferred stock of a new company to be formed. We have no later information.

COLOSIMO'S KIN TO OPERATE CAFE MADE FAMOUS

BY AL CHASE.

Colosimo's in some ways Chicago's most celebrated night life cafe, is going to remain in the Colosimo family apparently for some time to come. Yesterday Papa Luigi, father of the late Alvin Colosimo, late of the late Colosimo, better known as Frank, and Antonio, popularly called Tony, acquired a half interest in the property at 2128 South Dearborn.

Jim Colosimo, old partner, now in Europe, bought the other half from Joseph Adduci. The total price paid was an indicated $17,000, subject to $20,000.

Long a Love Leader.
Jim Colosimo for years was one of the big men of the late levee district. His cafe, along with Frieburg's, around the corner, kept open all night despite all efforts of reformers and others. It grew so popular that some years ago he built an elaborate annex next door. When pressure was ever brought to bear, when he happened occasionally, Colosimo would close one section and at 1 a. m. turn on the lights in the other.

Business Block Sold.
The one story business block at 1219-15 West Madison avenue, 100x125, with five one story brick garages on the rear of the lot, was sold by Frederick W. Reuter to Louis and Max Jacobson for a price of $11,000. W. J. Boyd of W. K. Young & Bro. was broker.

Sylvanus C. Levy bought the 20x50, improved with a two story building used to the Grimm Hardware Company, at 200 West Randolph, from A. Irving Jones, for an indicated $40,000, subject to $25,000. Mr. Jordan purchased it from Nyon H. Spades for an indicated $50,000, subject to $25,000.

ARKANSAS!

The Wonder State in Natural Resources

Arkansas is situated in the very heart of the continent, midway between the Lakes and the Gulf, the Rockies and the Alleghenies, in the center of the richest and fastest growing stretch of the Mississippi Valley, where there is an ever-growing market for the products of mill, factory and farm.

Supplies of raw materials, cheap fuels, convenient transportation facilities and proximity to markets are paramount essentials of the manufacturing industry, and in all of these Arkansas is abundantly endowed, ranking high among the states in the production of timber, minerals, grains and cotton, numbering among her fuels, coal, wood, oil, and gas, having 5,240 miles of railroad serving practically every community in the state, supplemented by an equal mileage of navigable waterways.

When stock is taken of the immense stores of forest and mineral products the state has contributed to the nation and of the greater resources that are yet untouched, and when it is understood that the land which may have yielded a heavy harvest of timber will give a still more valuable crop of corn, cotton, wheat, rice or alfalfa, and that not once, but year after year—when this wonderful productivity of Arkansas is realized there will be no surprise at the remarkable growth of its industries or of the encouraging outlook that is predicted for manufacturing enterprises of the future.

We recommend for investment the first mortgage bonds of the Arkansas Light and Power Company and its subsidiary, the Pine Bluff Company, which jointly serve a prosperous territory, having a total population of 165,000, with electric light and power.

The interests owning these properties are developing a valuable water-power on the Ouachita River, near Hot Springs, Arkansas, which will be operated in conjunction with the Arkansas Light and Power Company—and which will greatly reduce the operating expenses of the Arkansas Light and Power Company and will also provide additional cheap power for which there is a great demand, but which the Company has been unable to take care of up to the present time.

Principal and interest (March 1, 1923, and semi-annually thereafter, March 1 and September 1) payable at the American Exchange National Bank, New York City.

Coupon Bonds of $1,000 Denomination

Eligible to secure Postal Savings Deposits

FINANCIAL STATEMENT—SCHOOL DISTRICT

(As officially reported)

Assessed Valuation	$1,727,106,480
Total Bonded Debt (this issue included)	25,465,000
Sinking Fund	3,255,782
Net Debt	22,209,218

Ratio of net debt to assessed valuation is about 1 1/4%

Population of School District (estimated) 870,000

The School District includes the entire City of Cleveland and a small area of surrounding territory.

These Bonds, authorized at an election, are a direct obligation of the entire City of Cleveland School District. Under the constitution of the State of Ohio it is mandatory upon the officials of the School District to provide for a tax levy at the time of issuance sufficient to pay principal and interest of these Bonds at maturity. Under the Griswold act, bonds issued by municipalities and other political subdivisions of the State of Ohio must mature as nearly as possible in equal annual installments and cannot be issued for a longer period than the officially estimated life of the improvement.

Senate Deba
Burden R

BY ARTHUR SEAR

Washington, D. C., July 6.—The Republican debate on the tariff bill will be voted upon tomorrow today an afternoon of defensive oratorical warfare in the senate over the political power.

Senator Borah (Idaho) in a closing motion, called for a vote on the tariff bill, which he carried out their pro through the tariff bill and a soldier bonus bill, a ship and other legislation tax burden of the people.

"Debt to Run 250

The senator said that for our disabled soldiers to and as we cared for soldiers of the civil war, be $65,000,000,000, and present debt of $12,000,000,000, cost of the soldier bonus, and other legislation add have a total debt it will years in pay.

While discussing the Borah alluded to the political revolution in the nation this year.

"Is there any doubt, try?" he demanded. "feel it in all its effects ington, but it has reach people are resentful of the promises to lift the not been kept.
